Insurance against loss or damage by fire, on Dwellings, Furniture, Stores, Warehouses, Merchandise, Mills, Manufactories, and most other kinds of property, can be effected in this company upon as favorable terms as the nature of the risks and security of policy-holders will admit.
The above is the oldest company doing business in this state, and with peculiar propriety has been denominated "The Old Hartford." As an indemnity to the insured, it refers to a solid million of assets well invested: and if anything were needed to commend it to the public for liberal patronage, we might offer its history of success in business and honorable dealing with its patrons, for over half a century, as amply sufficient for the purpose.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, in the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.
Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company,
CASH CAPITAL OVER - - $1,900,000
all well invested for the benefit of Policy holders, so that the profits of this vast sum pay a large proportion of their annual premiums. This is unquestionably the very best Life Company doing business in this state.

RECOMMENDATIONS FROM PRESIDENTS OF COLLEGES.
Within the last few weeks the publishers have received flattering testimonials of the merits of this edition, from nearly THIRTY Presidents of as many of the leading Colleges of the United States. Among them are from Presidents Frelinghuysen of Rutgers, Walker of Harvard, Hopkins of Williams, Stearns of Amherst, Cummings of Middletown, Nott of Union, Wayland of Providence, Jackson of Hobart, Woods of Brunswick, Lord of Dartmouth, Pease of Burlington, Ballou of Tufts, Gale of Galesville, Ciampi of Holy Cross, Murphy of Abington, Labaree of Middlebury, Andrews of Marietta, Fisher of Hamilton, Reed of Shurtliff, Sturtevant of Illinois, Reynolds of Illinois, Collins of Wilkinson, Anderson of Rochester, Wallace of Monmouth, Curtis of Knox &c. In them are expressions like the following:—
"An honor to American science, taste and criticism." "An enduring value and authority." "Never found any work which so uniformly satisfied my inquiries." "Has ever since been my constant companion in my practice at the bar, and for the last five years upon the bench.—I have ever found it a safe counsellor, and an indispensable help in the preparation and decision of cases." "For the sake of my country and the English language, I rejoice in the wonderful standard excellence, as well as celebrity, your Dictionary has attained. It is a work for the present, and for all coming time." "Stands unquestionably preeminent." "There seems every prospect that it will be the standard book for this country, at least, if not for England. I am content it should be so." "This truly great and national work." "A complete apparatus for all purposes of reading and understanding English and American literature. It is difficult to conceive of anything that could be added to fit it for these ends." "A vast treasury of knowledge, the whole of which is needed by every one who uses the English language, either as a writer, a speaker, or a reader." "Ought to be a part of the furniture of every American house." "We long ago accepted Webster as the standard in our college, and the experience of every term strengthens our conviction of the wisdom of our choice." "So long as you continue to incorporate all the improvements which are developed in the science of lexicography," &c., &c. 29n2m.

DAILY GAZETTE.

EXPLANATION OF THE TROUBLES IN SYRIA.—The New York Observer publishes a letter from Rev. Wm. H. Thomson, missionary of the American Board in Syria, and author of "The Land and the Book," from which we take the following, which explains the heretofore almost incomprehensible condition of affairs in that country:

1. The European governments having adopted Turkey in the general family of nations, consummated their folly by deciding that no interference with her government operations was to be allowed. Hence, the Consuls of all nations found themselves paralyzed by positive instructions forbidding them to do anything to arrest this mad and infernal work.

2. Beirut has been governed for the last few years by an old, talented, but most bigoted Pasha, who has managed to get the christians of Kesrawan, Zahleh and Deir el Kamr into a state of semi-rebillion against himself, and he has been plotting their destruction for a long time. By increasing the ill-will between all classes, and especially by stirring up the hatred of the Druses toward the christians, he has now succeeded.

3. The christians having been now for so many years without any acknowledged head, found themselves utterly disorganized and unable to resist the wild onslaught of their enemies. Except at Zaleh, they have made no real resistance. The whole affair was driven through with startling rapidity. All Lebanon was in a blaze in one day. The Turkish government everywhere assisted the Druses.

4. I regard the success of the Druses, and its accompanying atrocities, as their final and utter destruction as a body. Never again will they rule over christians. Remember, that the scenes of cold-blooded butchery of unarmed men, women, priests, monks and nuns, not to speak of conflagrations of towns, villages, hamlets, churches, convents, etc., has no parallel in the history of Lebanon. I have this very year read through the entire history of Lebanon, since the Arabs resided in it, and it contains nothing that can compare with this tremendous tragedy.

5. There were no European ships of-war on this coast at the outbreak, and they are just beginning to assemble, but their coming is certain, and non-intervention is at an end. The Consuls yesterday received orders to all act in concert to stop the war.

6. It is expected that Russia and France will act separate from England, Austria and Prussia, and the downfall of the whole Turkish empire may be looked for. I am slow to blow the trumpet of alarm, but this grand and fearful result is not improbable.

STRAWBERRY PLANTING.—August and September are favorite months to plant out strawberries, with those who desire a crop of fruit the next season. In making a strawberry bed, a warm, dry spot of ground should be chosen, with, if possible a good loamy or clayey sub soil. A moist, wet situation is very unfavorable. It is best to sub-soil at least two feet deep, and if the soil is poor, let it be enriched with well decayed stable manure. In setting out, take care that the plants do not become dry from the time they are taken up till they are replanted, and see that they do not wither afterwards. Many persons cut off the leaves, if they are afraid of their wilting under hot suns, but a much better plan is to shade. Inverted 4-inch flower pots are excellent for this purpose; they may be taken off at night. The dews will so invigorate them, that the shade will only be required for a few days. Sometimes in September they may need a good watering; but this should never be attempted unless a thorough saturation of the bed is given; and in a few days after, the hoe and rake should be employed to loosen and level the surface, which the watering will, in all probability, have caused to bake and become very crusty.
Strawberries are best grown in beds about four feet wide for the convenience in gathering the fruit, and giving them the best cultivation. About three rows in a bed, and the plants twelve inches apart in the row, will be a good arrangement.

SENATOR DOOLITTLE AT ST. LOUIS.—There was an immense mass meeting of the free republican democracy at St. Louis, last Friday night, and Senator Doolittlee of this state was one of the speakers. The Democrat of that city says of him:
Senator Doolittle, of Wisconsin, continued the tribute of appreciation paid to Mr. Blair, and effectively urged the freemen of St. Louis to sustain their gallant leader in the cause of making Missouri a free state. He then impressively presented the fact, and proved and illustrated it from history, and by telling anecdotes, that the republican party is the true democratic party of revolutionary and constitutional liberty, and of Jefferson, Jackson and Benton. He showed at length that a party is to be sought for in, and only in its principles, and not in caucuses or conventions, or committees of partizan politicians.
His speech "took" with the multitude, who drank in his clear and resistless logic and manly eloquence with almost breathless interest, relieved only by hearty bursts of applause. When the Senator essayed to stop and make way for others, the universal cry that he should "go on" engaged him again. He closed by arraigning Douglas for desiring, as an ambitious aspirant for the presidency, to confer upon the president the vast power of initiating a war at pleasure. Recounting in graphic epitome the political crimes and heresies of the Little Giant, the Senator concluded by averring that if the people could forgive everything else in Mr. Douglas' career, they could neither forget nor forgive this insidious attempt to revolutionize the government of the United States, and transform it from a republic to a monarchy.

THE POPULATION OF ST. PAUL AND MINNESOTA.—The population of St. Paul, by the census just completed is about 10,600. There has been an increase in the county, but a falling off in the city, since 1850.
The population of the state will run between 175,000 and 200,000. It is doubtful whether there will be enough to entitle it to two representatives in Congress, as the ratio will probably be increased from 95,000, the present number, to 120,000.

Hon. John S. Wells, a distinguished citizen of New Hampshire, died at his residence in Exeter on the 1st inst. Mr. Wells was a member of the United States senate from New Hampshire, and for many years was the democratic candidate for governor of that state.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
AND BUILDERS.
Important Discoveries and New Arrangements!

THE subscriber has discovered upon his premises a splendid QUARRY OF FREESTONE, which promises to surpass anything yet found in the state, as well as add to the many already developed resources of our city.
A Beautiful, Cheap and Durable Building Material.
He has made arrangements to work this, together with the justly celebrated
Monterey Lime Stone Quarry, on a scale equal to the demands of our enterprising citizens, and in order to accommodate his numerous customers, he has made arrangements to keep constantly on hand a large supply of
ATHENS MARBLE
(or Chicago stone.) He is now fitting up extensive saw and scouring mills, and other machinery necessary for working the same, at a great reduction from former prices.
He also wishes to call attention to the fact that sound cutting or dimension stone can only be found at great distances from the surface, and that the Monterey Quarry is the only one in this county that has been worked far enough to reach those formations that are imperishable when exposed to the action of air and frost.
He is also supplying his Quarry with Derricks to facilitate the handling and loading large stone, and is fitting up expensive wagons, carts and trucks, rigged with the most approved appliances for moving and delivering dimension stone of any size, from two to thirty feet square, and from six to twenty inches thick, or any required length up to one hundred feet, to any part of the city or on board of the cars.
He is prepared to furnish Cut Stone
of every description.
PLAIN, MOULDED, CARVED OR POLISHED FLAGGING
of any required dimension.
Curbing, Paving, Ruble and Coursing
stone of the best quality in the state, all of which will be delivered at his Quarries or any part of the city, to suit purchasers.
In conclusion, he begs to assure the public that from the superior quality of his materials, and facilities for furnishing, he can and will make it to their interests to patronize the Monterey Quarries.
All Orders from the city or country will be promptly attended to.

Insurance against loss or damage by fire, on Dwellings, Furniture, Stores, Warehouses, Merchandise, Mills, Manufactories, and most other kinds of property, can be effected in this company, upon as favorable terms as the nature of the risks and security of policy-holders will admit.

The above is the oldest company doing business in this state, and with peculiar propriety has been denominated "The Old Hartford." As an indemnity to the insured, it refers to a solid million of assets well invested; and if anything were needed to commend it to the public for liberal patronage, we might offer its history of success in business and honorable dealing with its patrons, for over half a century, as amply sufficient for the purpose.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company,
CASH CAPITAL OVER $1,900,000

all well invested for the benefit of Policy holders, so that the profits of this vast sum pay a large proportion of their annual premiums. This is unquestionably the very best Life Company doing business in this state.

RECOMMENDATIONS FROM PRESIDENTS OF COLLEGES.

Within the last few weeks the publishers have received flattering testimonials of the merits of this edition, from nearly THIRTY Presidents of as many of the leading Colleges of the United States. Among them are from Presidents Frelinghuysen of Rutgers, Walker of Harvard, Hopkins of Williams, Stearns of Amherst, Cummings of Middletown, Nott of Union, Wayland of Providence, Jackson of Hobart, Woods of Brunswick, Lord of Dartmouth, Pease of Burlington, Ballou of Tufts, Gale of Galesville, Ciampi of Holy Cross, Murphy of Abington, Labaree of Middlebury, Andrews of Marietta, Fisher of Hamilton, Reed of Shurtliff, Sturtevant of Illinois, Reynolds of Illinois, Collins of Wilkinson, Anderson of Rochester, Wallace of Monmouth, Curtis of Knox &c. In them are expressions like the following:—

"An honor to American science, taste and criticism." "An enduring value and authority." "Never found any work which so uniformly satisfied my inquiries." "Has ever since been my constant companion in my practice at the bar, and for the last five years upon the bench.—I have ever found it a safe counsellor, and an indispensable help in the preparation and decision of cases." "For the sake of my country and the English language, I rejoice in the wonderful standard excellence, as well as celebrity, your Dictionary has attained. It is a work for the present, and for all coming time." "Stands unquestionably preeminant." "There seems every prospect that it will be the standard book for this country, at least, if not for England. I am content it should be so." "This truly great and national work." "A complete apparatus for all purposes of reading and understanding English and American literature. It is difficult to conceive of anything that could be added to fit it for these ends." "A vast treasury of knowledge, the whole of which is needed by every one who uses the English language, either as a writer, a speaker, or a reader." "Ought to be a part of the furniture of every American house." "We long ago accepted Webster as the standard in our college, and the experience of every term strengthens our conviction of the wisdom of our choice." "So long as you continue to incorporate all the improvements which are developed in the science of lexicography," &c., &c. 36w2m.

THESE popular BITTERS possess all the nourishing and invigorating properties of PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY, and are considered the most efficacious TONIC and STIMULANT, as well as the most agreeable STOMACHIC ever offered to the public. As a Tonic for Old People, delicate Ladies, convalescent invalids, and all weakly people, they cannot be surpassed; in all cases of Weakness or Debility, they will give immediate relief, and impart a strong healthy tone to the system. A trial will establish their merits over all other Tonics now in use. For LUNG COMPLAINTS, BRONCHITIS, DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS DISEASES AND LIVER COMPLAINTS, they are an invaluable Remedy; and are a certain preventative of CHILLS AND FEVERS.

DAILY GAZETTE.

EXPLANATION OF THE TROUBLES IN SYRIA.—The New York Observer publishes a letter from Rev. Wm. H. Thomson, missionary of the American Board in Syria, and author of "The Land and the Book," from which we take the following, which explains the heretofore almost incomprehensible condition of affairs in that country:

1. The European governments having adopted Turkey in the general family of nations, consummated their folly by deciding that no interference with her government operations was to be allowed. Hence, the Consuls of all nations found themselves paralyzed by positive instructions forbidding them to do anything to arrest this mad and infernal work.

2. Beirut has been governed for the last few years by an old, talented, but most bigoted Pasha, who has managed to get the christians of Kesrawan, Zahleh and Deir el Kamr into a state of semi-rebillion against himself, and he has been plotting their destruction for a long time. By increasing the ill-will between all classes, and especially by stirring up the hatred of the Druses toward the christians, he has now succeeded.

3. The christians having been now for so many years without any acknowledged head, found themselves utterly disorganized and unable to resist the wild onslaught of their enemies. Except at Zalch, they have made no real resistance. The whole affair was driven through with startling rapidity. All Lebanon was in a blaze in one day. The Turkish government everywhere assisted the Druses.

4. I regard the success of the Druses, and its accompanying atrocities, as their final and utter destruction as a body. Never again will they rule over christians. Remember, that the scenes of cold-blooded butchery of unarmed men, women, priests, monks and nuns, not to speak of conflagrations of towns, villages, hamlets, churches, convents, etc., has no parallel in the history of Lebanon. I have this very year read through the entire history of Lebanon, since the Arabs resided in it, and it contains nothing that can compare with this tremendous tragedy.

5. There were no European ships of-war on this coast at the outbreak, and they are just beginning to assemble, but their coming is certain, and non-intervention is at an end. The Consuls yesterday received orders to all act in concert to stop the war.

6. It is expected that Russia and France will act separate from England, Austria and Prussia, and the downfall of the whole Turkish empire may be looked for. I am slow to blow the trumpet of alarm, but this grand and fearful result is not improbable.

STRAWBERRY PLANTING.—August and September are favorite months to plant out strawberries, with those who desire a crop of fruit the next season. In making a strawberry bed, a warm, dry spot of ground should be chosen, with, if possible a good loamy or clayey sub soil. A moist, wet situation is very unfavorable. It is best to sub-soil at least two feet deep, and if the soil is poor, let it be enriched with well decayed stable manure. In setting out, take care that the plants do not become dry from the time they are taken up till they are replanted, and see that they do not wither afterwards. Many persons cut off the leaves, if they are afraid of their wilting under hot suns, but a much better plan is to shade. Inverted 4-inch flower pots are excellent for this purpose; they may be taken off at night. The dews will so invigorate them, that the shade will only be required for a few days. Sometimes in September they may need a good watering; but this should never be attempted unless a thorough saturation of the bed is given; and in a few days after, the hoe and rake should be employed to loosen and level the surface, which the watering will, in all probability, have caused to bake and become very crusty.

Strawberries are best grown in beds about four feet wide for the convenience in gathering the fruit, and giving them the best cultivation. About three rows in a bed, and the plants twelve inches apart in the row, will be a good arrangement.

SENATOR DOOLITTLE AT ST. LOUIS.—There was an immense mass meeting of the free republican democracy at St. Louis, last Friday night, and Senator Doolittlee of this state was one of the speakers. The Democrat of that city says of him:

Senator Doolittle, of Wisconsin, continued the tribute of appreciation paid to Mr. Blair, and effectively urged the freemen of St. Louis to sustain their gallant leader in the cause of making Missouri a free state. He then impressively presented the fact, and proved and illustrated it from history, and by telling anecdotes, that the republican party is the true democratic party of revolutionary and constitutional liberty, and of Jefferson, Jackson and Benton. He showed at length that a party is to be sought for in, and only in its principles, and not in caucuses or conventions, or committees of partizan politicians.

His speech "took" with the multitude, who drank in his clear and resistless logic and manly eloquence with almost breathless interest, relieved only by hearty bursts of applause. When the Senator essayed to stop and make way for others, the universal cry that he should "go on" engaged him again. He closed by arraigning Douglas for desiring, as an ambitious aspirant for the presidency, to confer upon the president the vast power of initiating a war at pleasure. Recounting in graphic eiptome the political crimes and heresies of the Little Giant, the Senator concluded by averring that if the people could forgive everything else in Mr. Douglas' career, they could neither forget nor forgive this insidious attempt to revolutionize the government of the United States, and transform it from a republic to a monarchy.

THE POPULATION OF ST. PAUL AND MINNESOTA.—The population of St. Paul, by the census just completed is about 10,600. There has been an increase in the county, but a falling off in the city, since 1850. The population of the state will run between 175,000 and 200,000. It is doubtful whether there will be enough to entitle it to two representatives in Congress, as the ratio will probably be increased from 95,000, the present number, to 120,000.

Hon. John S. Wells, a distinguished citizen of New Hampshire, died at his residence in Exeter on the 1st inst. Mr. Wells was a member of the United States senate from New Hampshire, and for many years was the democratic candidate for governor of that state.

He is also supplying his Quarry with Derricks to facilitate the handling and loading large stone, and is fitting up expensive wagons, carts and trucks, rigged with the most approved appliances for moving and delivering dimension stone of any size, from two to thirty feet square, and from six to twenty inches thick, or any required length up to one hundred feet, to any part of the city or on board of the cars.

The above is the oldest company doing business in this state, and with peculiar propriety has been denominated "The Old Hartford." As an indemnity to the insured, it refers to a solid million of assets well invested; and if anything were needed to commend it to the public for liberal patronage, we might offer its history of success in business and honorable dealing with its patrons, for over half a century, as amply sufficient for the purpose.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company,
CASH CAPITAL OVER $1,900,000

all well invested for the benefit of Policy holders, so that the profits of this vast sum pay a large proportion of their annual premiums. This is unquestionably the very best Life Company doing business in this state.

RECOMMENDATIONS FROM PRESIDENTS OF COLLEGES.

Within the last few weeks the publishers have received flattering testimonials of the merits of this edition, from nearly THIRTY Presidents of as many of the leading Colleges of the United States. Among them are from Presidents Frelinghuysen of Rutgers, Walker of Harvard, Hopkins of Williams, Stearns of Amherst, Cummings of Middletown, Nott of Union, Wayland of Providence, Jackson of Hobart, Woods of Brunswick, Lord of Dartmouth, Pease of Burlington, Ballou of Tufts, Gale of Galesville, Ciampi of Holy Cross, Murphy of Abington, Labaree of Middlebury, Andrews of Marietta, Fisher of Hamilton, Reed of Shurtliff, Sturtevant of Illinois, Reynolds of Illinois, Collins of Wilkinson, Anderson of Rochester, Wallace of Monmouth, Curtis of Knox &c. In them are expressions like the following:—

"An honor to American science, taste and criticism." "An enduring value and authority." "Never found any work which so uniformly satisfied my inquiries." "Has ever since been my constant companion in my practice at the bar, and for the last five years upon the bench.—I have ever found it a safe counsellor, and an indispensable help in the preparation and decision of cases." "For the sake of my country and the English language, I rejoice in the wonderful standard excellence, as well as celebrity, your Dictionary has attained. It is a work for the present, and for all coming time." "Stands unquestionably preeminent." "There seems every prospect that it will be the standard book for this country, at least, if not for England. I am content it should be so." "This truly great and national work." "A complete apparatus for all purposes of reading and understanding English and American literature. It is difficult to conceive of anything that could be added to fit it for these ends." "A vast treasury of knowledge, the whole of which is needed by every one who uses the English language, either as a writer, a speaker, or a reader." "Ought to be a part of the furniture of every American house." "We long ago accepted Webster as the standard in our college, and the experience of every term strengthens our conviction of the wisdom of our choice." "So long as you continue to incorporate all the improvements which are developed in the science of lexicography," &c., &c. 30w2m.

DAILY GAZETTE.

EXPLANATION OF THE TROUBLES IN SYRIA.—The New York Observer publishes a letter from Rev. Wm. H. Thomson, missionary of the American Board in Syria, and author of "The Land and the Book," from which we take the following, which explains the heretofore almost incomprehensible condition of affairs in that country:—

1. The European governments having adopted Turkey in the general family of nations, consummated their folly by deciding that no interference with her government operations was to be allowed. Hence, the Consuls of all nations found themselves paralyzed by positive instructions forbidding them to do anything to arrest this mad and infernal work.

2. Beirut has been governed for the last few years by an old, talented, but most bigoted Pasha, who has managed to get the christians of Kesrawan, Zahleh and Deir el Kamr into a state of semi-rebillion against himself, and he has been plotting their destruction for a long time. By increasing the ill-will between all classes, and especially by stirring up the hatred of the Druses toward the christians, he has now succeeded.

3. The christians having been now for so many years without any acknowledged head, found themselves utterly disorganized and unable to resist the wild onslaught of their enemies. Except at Zaleh, they have made no real resistance. The whole affair was driven through with startling rapidity. All Lebanon was in a blaze in one day. The Turkish government everywhere assisted the Druses.

4. I regard the success of the Druses, and its accompanying atrocities, as their final and utter destruction as a body. Never again will they rule over christians. Remember, that the scenes of cold-blooded butchery of unarmed men, women, priests, monks and nuns, not to speak of conflagrations of towns, villages, hamlets, churches, convents, etc., has no parallel in the history of Lebanon. I have this very year read through the entire history of Lebanon, since the Arabs resided in it, and it contains nothing that can compare with this tremendous tragedy.

5. There were no European ships of-war on this coast at the outbreak, and they are just beginning to assemble, but their coming is certain, and non-intervention is at an end. The Consuls yesterday received orders to all act in concert to stop the war.

6. It is expected that Russia and France will act separate from England. Austria and Prussia, and the downfall of the whole Turkish empire may be looked for. I am slow to blow the trumpet of alarm, but this grand and fearful result is not improbable.

STRAWBERRY PLANTING.—August and September are favorite months to plant out strawberries, with those who desire a crop of fruit the next season. In making a strawberry bed, a warm, dry spot of ground should be chosen, with, if possible a good loamy or clayey sub-soil. A moist, wet situation is very unfavorable. It is best to sub-soil at least two feet deep, and if the soil is poor, let it be enriched with well decayed stable manure. In setting out, take care that the plants do not become dry from the time they are taken up till they are replanted, and see that they do not wither afterwards. Many persons cut off the leaves, if they are afraid of their wilting under hot suns, but a much better plan is to shade. Inverted 4-inch flower pots are excellent for this purpose; they may be taken off at night. The dews will so invigorate them, that the shade will only be required for a few days. Sometimes in September they may need a good watering; but this should never be attempted unless a thorough saturation of the bed is given; and in a few days after, the hoe and rake should be employed to loosen and level the surface, which the watering will, in all probability, have caused to bake and become very crusty.

Strawberries are best grown in beds about four feet wide for the convenience in gathering the fruit, and giving them the best cultivation. About three rows in a bed, and the plants twelve inches apart in the row, will be a good arrangement.

SENATOR DOOLITTLE AT ST. LOUIS.—There was an immense mass meeting of the free republican democracy at St. Louis, last Friday night, and Senator Doolittlee of this state was one of the speakers. The Democrat of that city says of him:

Senator Doolittle, of Wisconsin, continued the tribute of appreciation paid to Mr. Blair, and effectively urged the freemen of St. Louis to sustain their gallant leader in the cause of making Missouri a free state. He then impressively presented the fact, and proved and illustrated it from history, and by telling anecdotes, that the republican party is the true democratic party of revolutionary and constitutional liberty, and of Jefferson, Jackson and Benton. He showed at length that a party is to be sought for in, and only in its principles, and not in caucuses or conventions, or committees of partizan politicians.

His speech "took" with the multitude, who drank in his clear and resistless logic and manly eloquence with almost breathless interest, relieved only by hearty bursts of applause. When the Senator essayed to stop and make way for others, the universal cry that he should "go on" engaged him again. He closed by arraigning Douglas for desiring, as an ambitious aspirant for the presidency, to confer upon the president the vast power of initiating a war at pleasure. Recounting in graphic eiptome the political crimes and heresies of the Little Giant, the Senator concluded by averring that if the people could forgive everything else in Mr. Douglas' career, they could neither forget nor forgive this insidious attempt to revolutionize the government of the United States, and transform it from a republic to a monarchy.

THE POPULATION OF ST. PAUL AND MINNESOTA.—The population of St. Paul, by the census just completed is about 10,600. There has been an increase in the county, but a falling off in the city, since 1850.

The population of the state will run between 175,000 and 200,000. It is doubtful whether there will be enough to entitle it to two representatives in Congress, as the ratio will probably be increased from 95,000, the present number, to 120,000.

Hon. John S. Wells, a distinguished citizen of New Hampshire, died at his residence in Exeter on the 1st inst. Mr. Wells was a member of the United States senate from New Hampshire, and for many years was the democratic candidate for governor of that state.

The Booth Case--Both Sides of It.

The rescue of Booth from the democratic Bastile in Milwaukee, the abortive attempt made to re-arrest him at Ripon, and the probability of a fture attempt which may or may not be successful, has brought himself and his case again prominently before the public. As a prisoner under a revolting law; arrested by an odious administration for the express purpose of exhibiting and enforcing the most odious features of that law, and with the desire and expectation of arousing a forcible resistance to its execution to alarm the timid and prop up the decaying fortunes of a desperate party; subjected to every annoyance and irritation of an imbecile and tyrannical keeper, a widespread sympathy in the public mind had been excited for Mr. Booth, and a very general satisfaction expressed at his escape.

But while this view will be kept steadily in mind, there is another light in which Mr. Booth will be exhibited, and which no amount of the detestation of the law under which he was imprisoned, and no degree of indignation towards his persecutors will prevent having its influence upon the public sentiment and feeling. Unfortunately for himself and those friends who saw a great principle involved in his imprisonment, he stood charged with a monster crime against morality and the public virtue, and infested with the odor of an offence in its temptitude little less than incest. Any man having the least remnant of self-respect, would have been glad to seek in obscurity forgetfulness of his abasement, even at the expense of quiet submission to grievous wrong. Yet when his persecutors had satisfied their hate or been balked in the object desired by his imprisonment, and were willing to so far aid in his escape as to permit him to leave the state without molestation, if he had chosen to do so, he not only makes no concealment of his place of refuge, but openly defies the power from which he has been released, and seeks to precipitate the conflict he once failed to arouse.

We do not say or think that this latter view should absorb the former, or that the personal infamy of the subject should override the outrage committed upon him, and through him upon every northern freeman who may aid a fugitive slave in his attempt to escape from his servitude; but we do say and do think, we wish we had a better man to test the questions at issue in his arrest and imprisonment.

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTIONS.—The democratic convention for the first district meets in Milwaukee on the 16th inst.

The republican convention for the second district meets at La Crosse on the 22d inst.

The democratic convention for the second district meets at Prairie du Chien on the 29th inst.

The republican convention for the third district meets at Ripon, September 5th.

The democratic convention for the third district meets at Fond du Lac on the 31st inst.

Candidates for each of these conventions are numerous as blackberries in a good bearing season. Wisconsin has at least 100,000 men every way qualified to represen the state at Washington, and each of whom is willing to sacrifice himself for the public welfare.

GOV. SEWARD'S WESTERN TRIP.—It is stated, on the authority of an Auburn (N. Y.) paper that Gov. Seward will speak at Madison on the 8th of September. The central committee have not yet announced the day, and we hope, with the Madison Journal, that a day or two earlier will be selected as the 8th of September, coming on Saturday, will seriously interfere with the return home of the thousands who will desire to hear him.

In connection with this announcement, the same authority says that Gov. S. will speak in Michigan on the 1st, in Minnesota on the 15th, in Chicago on a day to be fixed by the city committee, and at Cleveland and Pittsburgh before his return to Auburn.

While the "dough faces" are falsely accusing republicans of desiring to abolish slavery in the states, they are practically abolishing freedom in the territories.

The Squatterite.

"If this great, outrageous fellow,
Goes on thus a little longer,
Tearing everything he touches,
Rending everything to pieces,
Filling all the world with wonder
What becomes of the Puk-Wudjies:
Who will care for the Puk-Wudjies?"
[Longfellow.

Of the wondrous "Little Giant,"
Who so loftily approaches
The dear people; and professes
Great regard for all their wishes;
With a vision of such clearness
As to see, in the dim distance,
Far beyond the ken of mortals—
Common mortals such as we are
Who are not so highly favored
With a sight of future glories—
What is sometimes called the "White House,"
Where he hopes, in full fruition
Of the many blessings found there,
Hopes to rest from all his sorrows;
And those sturdy warriors with him,
Who have fought and bled and floundered
Through the black and reeking quagmires
Of political corruption!
Where so many still do wallow
Like a fat and puffing porpoise.
Of this "Leader," "Squatter Sovereign,"
"Little Giant," or "Brobdinag,"
"Stump-Speech-Interjecting-Doctor,"
Or whatever else you call him;
Let us now, with careful "squintage"
Take a view—an observation.
Whence he came, it matters not now,
Nor how much or little noticed
Ere his curious gyrations,
And his "grand and lofty tumbling"
In the political arena,
To secure the sweet approval
Of the dear and cherished people
Who were called upon to witness
With what ease and how completely
He could balance on that great line
Drawn in Eighteen Hundred Twenty;
But while balancing most finely,
On this line; and smiling blandly,
Smiling with his visage northward
Viewing an approving people;
All at once there rose behind him,
From a cloud of sable darkness,
Resting in the south most dismal,
Roaring, like the fiery dragons
That are found in ancient story;
Serpent hissings from this cloud came
'Gainst the trembling Little Giant,
Who, no longer calm and careful,
Fell off backwards, into darkness;
There for many days remaining,
Passing through a transformation;
Loosing honor's bright effulgence;
Losing all that's worth the having;
He came out another being.
The brightness of his soul was darkened;
Darkened were his mind and feelings;
Darkened were his future prospects,
And that sable cloud still hovers
Like a pall of darkness o'er him,
And the storm of indignation
Which is gathering slow but surely;
From the north and west is coming
With a sound, deep and portentious,
To overwhelm this "puffing leader."
Leader of the dismal forces;
Marching off in solemn cadence,
To the music of disunion.
Still the path of sorrow tread they,
Oft the eyes of some are opened
To behold the fearful ruin
That awaits these blinded mortals,
And they fly to "save their bacon"
From such wonderful destruction.
Yet this leader presses onward,
Puffing always, puffing over,
And the little puffers follow,
Puffing after their great leader.
Sad the lot of the forsaken;
Gloom and sorrow now attend them.
Turn then friends, oh turn in season.
Turn and follow after Abram.

LARRABEE'S OPINION.—Mr. Larrabee, as reported by the Ozaukee Advertiser, in a recent speech at Port Washington, said—"As matters now stood, it was his opinion that the election would go to the house of representatives."—Madison Argus.

This would give "our Charley" a chance to gratify his dodging propensites. He can support Douglas in Wisconsin and Breckinridge in Washington. If Douglas turns up winner, he is all right with the "Little Giant," but if Breckinridge or Joe Lane takes the pile he will ask for a share in the distribution—first, for voting indirectly to carry the election into the house, and then voting directly for the successful candidate.

THE ELECTION OF FRANK BLAIR.—At the congressional election in St. Louis, in 1858, the vote for member of congress stood as follows:

Barrett (dem.)	7,058
Blair (rep.)	6,631
Breckinridge (Am.)	5,668

The majority of Barrett was obtained by the grossest of frauds, and Mr. Blair contested the election. After a thorough and searching investigation, Barrett was turned out of his seat, and Mr. Blair admitted.—The latter at once resigned, and referred the matter back to his constituents.

At the election which came off on Monday last, a member was to be elected to fill the vacancy for the unexpired term of the present congress, and also a member for the next congress. Blair and Barrett were nominated by their respective parties for both the vacancy and the long term. The Americans made no nomination for the vacancy, but ran Albert Todd, Esq., for the long term. The leaders of the Americans bargained with the democracy to defeat Blair for the short term.

The canvass has been one of the most exciting ever witnessed in that city. Immense meetings and processions have been the order every night for weeks. The whole country has looked forward to the result with unusual interest. At the time of this writing it is still a matter of doubt as to who is elected for the short term; but for the long term Blair is elected by a triumphant majority. The figures in our dispatches indicate that his majority will fall little, if any, below one thousand.

The result is a triumphant vindication of Mr. Blair, proving conclusively the correctness of the charges of fraud preferred against the democracy in the election of 1858. If Barrett is elected for the short term, it is through American votes. In 1858, these votes were polled for Breckinridge, the American candidate. The true test was on the long term, and Blair leads his competitor by nearly a thousand votes.

The election of Mr. Blair will be hailed with peculiar gratification by the friends of freedom and of good government throughout the country. Among that noble band who, upon the floor of Congress, will sustain the administration of Abraham Lincoln, and aid in carrying out sound republican principles, he will hold a conspicuous place. The gallant fight which he has waged for years against wrong and injustice, in the presence of the slave power, and the courage and resolution with which he has ever met its fiercest assaults, prove him to be eminently fitted for official station in times like the present. All honor to the people of St. Louis county for rightly appreciating his noble qualities and for giving him again to the nation.—Press and Tribune.

The cranberry marshes in the section of country about Hudson, says the Star, presents a cheering appearance—the cranberry bushes being loaded down with berries. The Minnesota papers report a large yield throughout that state.

Recent census returns give the population of Springfield at 7,050, Urbana 5,400, Bucyrus 3,542, Fremont 3,527.

CHRONICLES.

BY CARRIE VERNON.

CHAPTER I.

Now it came to pass in the fourth year of the reign of Buchanan, the president, and just before he was forced to abdicate his seat in favor of another—even of one Abraham, surnamed Lincoln, that there were two cities which were founded upon a Rock, in the land called Wisconsin.

Now one of these cities was called in those days, Beloit; which word was once accidentally pronounced by one who was striving to give an English word a French termination, for a name to give unto this new made village; and the other city was named from one whose surname was Janes, and who lived in the region thereof; therefore is the city called Janesville, even unto this day.

And it came to pass that in those cities were places where the youths and maidens did meet together to be taught many things after the custom of those days.

And the elders of those cities did give unto certain rabbies power to teach, and rule over all those both small and great, which should gather themselves together in the halls of learning of those cities.

And they were mighty rabbies in word and deed, and did teach as those having authority.

And it came to pass in the fifth month of the same year, even the twenty-fifth day of May, that he of the city of Janesville did send to the one of the other city, saying "behold, now! we are coming, even I, myself, and my pupils, to visit you and your pupils."

And there was great rejoicing among those to whom this word came, and the Rabbi said, "behold, now! on the morrow must we hasten forth to meet them." Then bethought he, that the message had not been given, whether they should come by the way of the iron horse, or by chariots

So they could not do this, neither could they so well entertain strangers, as though they had more time to make preparation; for it was not until the third hour of the first watch of the night, before they were to come that the message was delivered. Moreover, was not the school-building as large or commodious as they wished; yet made they all haste to do whatsoever they might for the entertainment of those which should come unto them.

So it came to pass upon the morrow, that those of the city called Janesville, being assembled all together in one place, even a depot, as it was called, did forthwith enter some large boxes, which were in shape somewhat like unto parallelograms, and were labelled as cars, and thus hasted they as upon the wings of the wind to the other city.

And having soon arrived at the school building were they warmly welcomed by the rabbi and his pupils, and were pleased to listen to the recitations of some classes,—even of one in the science of numbers, called algebra, and also of one which treats of the principles which should govern the use of the English tongue.

After which did they also hear some declamations and compositions, in which exercise certain of their own number joined, and they were all pronounced very good.

Then at the eve, did those of this city accompany the others to the depot, and calling out to each other, with gleeful farewells, and invitations to visit again, and return the visit, did they take their departure, and in a few minutes, even to the number of twenty-four, only, had they passed over twenty miles, and had arrived each in his own city. Then did it come to pass, after many days, that this Rabbi of Beloit, did say to the young men and maidens in his charge: "Hearken ye, and attend to the words of my mouth; is it not meet and proper that we straightway make preparations to return the visit which has been made to us, and spy out the good discipline and hearken to the recitations of the other schools."

And they gave ear, and listened to the meditations of his heart, which he made known to them, and opened their mouths saying "Yea, be it even as thou hast said, straightway will we make ready to go."

And so upon the twenty-fifth day, of the sixth month, even the month of June, did they enter certain vehicles, called carriages, and went out upon the highway, and turned the faces of their horses towards the north, even Janesville ward.

Now there was much joyfulness among these upon this day, for they were mostly members of one enterprising society yclept "Young America;" and some did drive like unto one ancient, by name Jehu, inasmuch that the wheels of two carriages did come together, and some part of one was broken, thereby causing some of the more timid among the maidens—even four or five of them—to think themselves in jeopardy. But there was no harm suffered to come unto them and they did safely arrive at the city.

And as they drew near unto the school building did they marvel exceedingly at its size and beautiful situation, and the more so as they were conducted into a large reception room, and dressing room, where were lain aside outer garments—even the shawls, caps, hats, dusters and shakers.—Then did they enter the spacious schoolroom, where they did listen to various exercises, among which was one of a branch of mathematics, and also the science of the English tongue, as they were taught in those days, together with certain others called rhetorical exercises, and they pronounced them all very good.

And it came to pass after the Rabbi who presided at this place, had made an ending of these things, that he did invite them to descend from this uppermost room to one lower, where they were out of measure astonished to find a banquet spread for them, of every thing which was pleasant to the eyes and to be desired to make one refreshed. And forthwith were they seated at the banquet and did partake with gratitude and joyfulness of the first fruits of the season—even of the golden southern orange and the rose-hued strawberry.

Then as the evening was approaching, though they would fain have talked longer, did they with pleasant farewells take their departure, being well pleased with everything their eyes had beheld, or lips tasted, or ears listened to, and hastened to return, every one to his own city, and to his own kindred.

But of the pleasures of this day, and how they ascended to the cupola and looked upon the city and river, and of their call at the Blind Institute, where they fain would have lingered, and many other things, behold! are they not all written upon the memories of the students of the High Schools of those two cities.

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE.

BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE,
Office in Union Passenger Depot.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.

The Algerino Zeitung of Augsburgh reports the Chinese ambassador, Tien Sung, dead or dying. Should it be confirmed, it is possible that the allies may receive propositions of peace from Peutig.

A German print says an ukase by the Czar places foreign merchants on an equal footing in Russia with native merchants.

The French steam transport Iser has been lost in the Amer channel with 4,640 tons of powder, and much other material of war.

Buenos Ayres dates of June 14th state that the contract between Buenos Ayres and the Argentine confederation has been ratified and there is every prospect of the establishment of peace.

There was extraordinary activity in business and a large increase of trade with the United States.

SYRACUSE, Aug. 7.

At the afternoon session of the Breckinridge convention, Henry S. Randall was chosen permanent president, and the convention proceeded to business.

A number of gentlemen were put in nomination for candidates for governor, among whom were James T. Brady, Chas. O'Connor and J. A. Dix.

Among the resolutions are the following: That the national committee have no new principles to proclaim and no new doctrine to accept but to renew the protest against the absorption of any other political parties in the discussion of the slavery question, and repeat the question whether this Union is to be preserved for white men or destoyed on account of negroes. That we equally oppose and repudiate the plan for interfering with the right of slaveholders in the territories by act of congress, and the plan of Douglas for interfering with them by unfriendly territorial legislation. That our principles stand defended by the supreme court of the United States in the Dred Scott decision, as the doctrine of the constitution. That we adopt and ratify the platform adopted by Cushing's convention at Baltimore, and accept it as our platform.

The resolutions were drawn up by Gideon J. Tucker, and were received with applause.

The convention then adjourned to find, by telegraph, some man in the state who would accept the nomination for governor.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 8.

Coombs' election is conceded by everybody, majority variously estimated. As far as heard from, in 35 counties, Coombs leads 13,000. The Breckinridge wing in this section complain that the Douglas wing transferred a large portion of their votes from their nominee to Coombs. Coombs' majority therefore depends upon the action of the two wings of the democracy in counties to be heard from, which are inaccessible by railroad or telegraph. Some days will be yet required to ascertain the final result.

CINCINNATI, August 8.

A Bell and Everett county convention yesterday nominated a full county ticket.—Larz Anderson was nominated to congress from the 1st district. Hon. John Scott Harrison for the 2d dist.

LOUISVILLE, August 8.

There was a severe shock of earthquake at Henderson at 9:30 this morning, causing much consternation during eight or ten seconds. Slight shock here at 9 this morning.

ORGANIZATION OF A BRECKINRIDGE CLUB.—At a meeting of the central democratic club of the city and county of Milwaukee—O. Alexander in the chair, held on the evening of the 2d inst., at the office of H. L. Davis, Young's block. The committee appointed at a previous meeting to draft a constitution, reported—which report was accepted and the constitution adopted.

On motion a committee consisting of Messrs. Jenkins, Swineford, Crampton, Davis and Bade, were appointed to report the names of permanent officers for the association, and after some deliberation, reported through their chairman the names of the following gentlemen:

For president, Sidney L. Rood.
For recording sec'y, John Horan.
For corresponding sec'y, J. G. Jenkins.
For treasurer, I. H. Crampton.
Executive committee—J. A. Noonan, F. Henry, H. L. Davis, A. Bade and A. G. Ellis.

On motion the meeting adjourned to meet at the same place on Saturday evening.—Mil. Enquirer.

THE GERMANS.—It is with the utmost satisfaction that we are able to announce positively a large accession to the republican ranks of those steady and order-loving men from all parts of the state, and we trust that, engaged in the common cause that should knit us in the very strongest ties, we may act in the most perfect unison. It is high time that old jealousies of the race should disappear, and that our different peculiarities should be looked on with a tolerant eye on both sides. We feel positive that few from the old fatherland can read the soul-stirring speeches of their gallant and accomplished brother, Carl Schurz, without feeling that nothing but the "right absolute" could prompt such eolquence.

It is with pride and satisfaction that the American Republic hails the advent of such a man to her ranks and we are bound to respect and esteem as we do, the compatriots of such a man.—St. Paul Times.

A NEEDLE IN A MAN AT LEAST NINE YEARS.—Yesterday, a needle made its appearance just above the hip of a workman in one of the Mississippi R. R. shops, and was pulled out without any particular pain or trouble. The person from whom it was taken, says he first felt it nine years ago, in his left arm just above the elbow, and since then he has felt it in his right leg below the knee, and then above the knee, and afterwards above his hip where it was pulled out. He thinks he must have swallowed it when a child, and if so it has had a long journey through his system, as he is now well advanced. He is in good health, and has never suffered particularly from it.

THE MAIDEN'S SOLILOQUY.—'To marry or not to marry;' that is the question.—Whether 'tis nobler in mind to suffer the slings and arrows of despised single blessedness, or to take one against a sea of troubles, and by marrying, end them? 'To marry;'—'to settle down;'—much more;—and by the act, to say I end the heart ache, and the thousand endless taunts that I am heir to. 'Tis a consummation devoutly to be wished.

'To marry;' ay; there's the rub. For in that life of matrimony, what troubles may come. When I have given away this heart of mine: Must give me pause. There's the way that makes calamity of many a life. But who would bear the whims and scorns of single life—the oppressor's wrong—the old maid's contumely—the pangs of despised love—death's delay—the insolence of all; and the spurns that patient merit of the unworthy takes: When I myself might my happiness make with a mere husband?—Who would these miseries bear to mourn and linger under a weary life; but that the dread of trouble after marriage—the unknown future from whose fate no traveler returns—puzzles the heart; and makes me rather bear these ills I have, than to fly to others that I know not of.

Thus apprehension does make cowards of us all, and thus the happy hue of resolution sicklied o'er with the pale cast of dread, and enterprises of great pith and moment, with this before them, turn those currents away; and I fear, I lose the name of "wife."

DOGBERRY.

THE SOUND OF GROWING CORN.—Did you ever hear corn grow? You have probably heard the remark, "our corn grows so fast that you can hear it." That is supposed, people who don't know, to be a figure of speech only; but the remark out here is a literal fact. Go into one of these "bottom" corn fields forty or fifty rods on a warm July day, or August night, when a bright moon is up (for vegetation grows faster in moonlight than in darkness,) and a few hours after a heavy shower that has fairly wet the earth, and waked up the drowsy corn to its influences, and as the main stalk stretches and swells in its new strength up through the contracted lips of the upper blades, they crack and burst around you like the stifled reports of ten thousand rifles!—That cornfield will be some inches higher at sunrise the next morning than at the last sundown. There is no mistake about it. We have heard corn grow many a time, and so every farmer along the Sciota valley will tell you.—The World.

AN EXTRA PASSENGER.—An amusing scene took place on the steamer Baltimore, just as she was leaving for Cleveland. A rough looking genius came aboard with a powerful bull dog at his heels. Walking directly into the office, the individual said to the clerk:

"Stranger, I want to leave my dog in this office till the boat starts; I'm afraid somebody will steal him."

"You can't do it," said the clerk, "take him out."

"Well, stranger, that's cruel, but yon're both dispositioned alike, and he's kinder company for you."

"Take him out," roared the clerk.

"Well, stranger, I don't think you're honest, and want watching. Here, Bull sit down here, and watch that fellow sharp," and the individual turned on his heels saying—"Put him out, stranger if he's troublesome."

The dog lay there when the boat started, the clerk giving him the better part of his office.

HOW TO DESTROY THE CURCULIO.—William Archer, a nurseryman of Utica, New York, says:

RECIPE.—Procure a tin pail, punch holes in the bottom, procure a pole that will reach above the top of your plum trees; fill said pail with airslacked lime; hold the whole thing over your plum trees, in the morning before the dew is off; strike lightly on the pole and sprinkle the lime on the trees.—Repeat this operation say about three times, and your plum crop is safe. The curculio wont work where lime is.

POPULATION AND WEALTH OF NEW YORK CITY.—According to the Tribune the U. S. census will show a population of 862,257 in New York city, against 629,310 in 1855—being an increase of some two hundred and thirty two thousand in five years. The value of the real and personal estate of New York is set down at over seven hundred millions.

$1,500 REWARD!
A Double Murderer at Large.

THE above reward is offered for the arrest of B. A. McCOMB, and his delivery to me or the sheriff of Wapello county, Iowa. Of this, $500 is offered by the governor of Iowa, $500 by the citizens of Ottumwa, Iowa, and $500 by the county of Winnebago, Illinois.

DESCRIPTION OF MC COMB.

McComb is about 30 years old, about 5 feet 8 inches high, very dark complexion, very straight form, weighs about 150 or 160 pounds, has a good set of teeth, very black hair with a little gray interspersed, has a small grey spot in his hair near his forehead, caused by a scar on the head, has blue or hazle eyes, downcast look, very black, heavy beard when not shaved, has a scar on or near the top of one of his feet the shape of a dent that would receive three or four kernels of wheat. He usually carries a Colt's six shooter, silver mounted, and is a good marksman with it; is a notorious villain and horse thief, and served a term of six years in the Illinois state prison for robbing the mail; is connected with a gang of horse thieves in northern Illinois, and where he is known goes by the name of "Lant McComb."

On the 16th of March last, one George Lawrence seduced Laura J. Harvey from her home in Rockford, Ill., and by agreement met with McComb. On the 27th of March the three arrived at Ottumwa, and on the night of the 29th Lawrence and Miss Harvey were both murdered by McComb. The body of Miss Harrey was found in the Des Moines river, at Ottumwa, on the morning of March 30th. The remains of George Lawrence were found and identified on the 28th of July. Shortly after the murder was committed McComb was traced to Iowa City, where he disposed of the wagon and team, which belonged to Lawrence, and from there to his father's house, near Rockford, Ill., and from there to Beloit and Madison, Wis., at which place a distinct trace of him was lost.—KING H. The Booth Case--Both Sides of It.

The rescue of Booth from the democratic Bastile in Milwaukee, the abortive attempt made to re-arrest him at Ripon, and the probability of a fture attempt which may or may not be successful, has brought himself and his case again prominently before the public. As a prisoner under a revolting law; arrested by an odious administration for the express purpose of exhibiting and enforcing the most odious features of that law, and with the desire and expectation of arousing a forcible resistance to its execution to alarm the timid and prop up the decaying fortunes of a desperate party; subjected to every annoyance and irritation of an imbecile and tyrannical keeper, a widespread sympathy in the public mind had been excited for Mr. Booth, and a very general satisfaction expressed at his escape.

But while this view will be kept steadily in mind, there is another light in which Mr. Booth will be exhibited, and which no amount of the detestation of the law under which he was imprisoned, and no degree of indignation towards his persecutors will prevent having its influence upon the public sentiment and feeling. Unfortunately for himself and those friends who saw a great principle involved in his imprisonment, he stood charged with a monster crime against morality and the public virtue, and infested with the odor of an offence in its temptitude little less than incest. Any man having the least remnant of self-respect, would have been glad to seek in obscurity forgetfulness of his abasement, even at the expense of quiet submission to grievous wrong. Yet when his persecutors had satisfied their hate or been balked in the object desired by his imprisonment, and were willing to so far aid in his escape as to permit him to leave the state without molestation, if he had chosen to do so, he not only makes no concealment of his place of refuge, but openly defies the power from which he has been released, and seeks to precipitate the conflict he once failed to arouse.

We do not say or think that this latter view should absorb the former, or that the personal infarmy of the subject should override the outrage committed upon him, and through him upon every northern freeman who may aid a fugitive slave in his attempt to escape from his servitude; but we do say and do think, we wish we had a better man to test the questions at issue in his arrest and imprisonment.

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTIONS.—The democratic convention for the first district meets in Milwaukee on the 16th inst.

The republican convention for the second district meets at La Crosse on the 22d inst.

The democratic convention for the second district meets at Prairie du Chien on the 29th inst.

The republican convention for the third district meets at Ripon, September 5th.

The democratic convention for the third district meets at Fond du Lac on the 31st inst.

Candidates for each of these conventions are numerous as blackberries in a good bearing season. Wisconsin has at least 100,000 men every way qualified to represen the state at Washington, and each of whom is willing to sacrifice himself for the public welfare.

GOV. SEWARD'S WESTERN TRIP.—It is stated, on the authority of an Auburn (N. Y.) paper that Gov. Seward will speak at Madison on the 8th of September. The central committee have not yet announced the day, and we hope, with the Madison Journal, that a day or two earlier will be selected as the 8th of September, coming on Saturday, will seriously interfere with the return home of the thousands who will desire to hear him.

In connection with this announcement, the same authority says that Gov. S. will speak in Michigan on the 1st, in Minnesota on the 15th, in Chicago on a day to be fixed by the city committee, and at Cleveland and Pittsburgh before his return to Auburn.

While the "dough faces" are falsely accusing republicans of desiring to abolish slavery in the states, they are practically abolishing freedom in the territories.

The Squatterite.

"If this great, outrageous fellow,
Goes on thus a little longer,
Tearing everything he touches,
Rending everything to pieces,
Filling all the world with wonder
What becomes of the Puk-Wudjies?
Who will care for the Puk-Wudjies?"
[Longfellow.

Of the wondrous "Little Giant,"
Who so loftily approaches
The dear people; and professes
Great regard for all their wishes;
With a vision of such clearness
As to see, in the dim distance,
Far beyond the ken of mortals—
Common mortals such as we are
Who are not so highly favored
With a sight of future glories—
What is sometimes called the "White House,"
Where he hopes, in full fruition
Of the many blessings found there,
Hopes to rest from all his sorrows;
And those sturdy warriors with him,
Who have fought and bled and floundered
Through the black and reeking quagmires
Of political corruption!
Where so many still do wallow
Like a fat and puffing porpoise.
Of this "Leader," "Squatter Sovereign,"
"Little Giant," or "Brobdinag,"
"Stump-Speech-Interjecting-Doctor,"
Or whatever else you call him;
Let us now, with careful "squintage"
Take a view—an observation.
Whence he came, it matters not now,
Nor how much or little noticed
Ere his curious gyrations,
And his "grand and lofty tumbling"
In the political arena,
To secure the sweet approval
Of the dear and cherished people
Who were called upon to witness
With what ease and how completely
He could balance on that great line
Drawn in Eighteen Hundred Twenty;
But while balancing most finely,
On this line; and smiling blandly,
Smiling with his visage northward
Viewing an approving people;
All at once there rose behind him,
From a cloud of sable darkness,
Resting in the south most dismal,
Roaring, like the fiery dragons
That are found in ancient story;
Serpent hissings from this cloud came
'Gainst the trembling Little Giant,
Who, no longer calm and careful,
Fell off backwards, into darkness;
There for many days remaining,
Passing through a transformation;
Loosing honor's bright effulgence;
Losing all that's worth the having;
He came out another being.
The brightness of his soul was darkened;
Darkened were his mind and feelings;
Darkened were his future prospects,
And that sable cloud still hovers
Like a pall of darkness o'er him,
And the storm of indignation
Which is gathering slow but surely;
From the north and west is coming
With a sound, deep and portentious,
To overwhelm this "puffing leader."
Leader of the diviest forces;
Marching off in solemn cadence,
To the music of disunion.
Still the path of sorrow tread they,
Oft the eyes of some are opened
To behold the fearful ruin
That awaits these blinded mortals,
And they fly to "save their bacon"
From such wonderful destruction.
Yet this leader presses onward.
Puffing always, puffing ever,
And the little puffers follow,
Puffing after their great leader.
Sad the lot of the forsaken;
Gloom and sorrow now attend them.
Turn then friends, oh turn in season.
Turn and follow after Abram. K.

LARRABEE'S OPINION.—Mr. Larrabee, as reported by the Ozaukee Advertiser, in a recent speech at Port Washington, said—"As matters now stood, it was his opinion that the election would go to the house of representatives."—Madison Argus.

This would give "our Charley" a chance to gratify his dodging propensites. He can support Douglas in Wisconsin and Breckinridge in Washington. If Douglas turns up winner, he is all right with the "Little Giant," but if Breckinridge or Joe Lane takes the pile he will ask for a share in the distribution—first, for voting indirectly to carry the election into the house, and than voting directly for the successful candidate.

THE ELECTION OF FRANK BLAIR.—At the congressional election in St. Louis, in 1858, the vote for member of congress stood as follows:

Barrett (dem.)	7,058
Blair (rep.)	6,631
Breckinridge (Am.)	5,668

The majority of Barrett was obtained by the grossest of frauds, and Mr. Blair contested the election. After a thorough and searching investigation, Barrett was turned out of his seat, and Mr. Blair admitted.—The latter at once resigned, and referred the matter back to his constituents.

At the election which came off on Monday last, a member was to be elected to fill the vacancy for the unexpired term of the present congress, and also a member for the next congress. Blair and Barrett were nominated by their respective parties for both the vacancy and the long term. The Americans made no nomination for the vacancy, but ran Albert Todd, Esq., for the long term. The leaders of the Americans bargained with the democracy to defeat Blair for the short term.

The canvass has been one of the most exciting ever witnessed in that city. Immense meetings and processions have been the order every night for weeks. The whole country has looked forward to the result with unusual interest. At the time of this writing it is still a matter of doubt as to who is elected for the short term; but for the long term Blair is elected by a triumphant majority. The figures in our dispatches indicate that his majority will fall little, if any, below one thousand.

The result is a triumphant vindication of Mr. Blair, proving conclusively the correctness of the charges of fraud preferred against the democracy in the election of 1858. If Barrett is elected for the short term, it is through American votes. In 1858, these votes were polled for Breckinridge, the American candidate. The true test was on the long term, and Blair leads his competitor by nearly a thousand votes.

The election of Mr. Blair will be hailed with peculiar gratification by the friends of freedom and of good government throughout the country. Among that noble band who, upon the floor of Congress, will sustain the administration of Abraham Lincoln, and aid in carrying out sound republican principles, he will hold a conspicuous place. The gallant fight which he has waged for years against wrong and injustice, in the presence of the slave power, and the courage and resolution with which he has ever met its fiercest assaults, prove him to be eminently fitted for official station in times like the present. All honor to the people of St. Louis county for rightly appreciating his noble qualities and for giving him again to the nation.—Press and Tribune.

The cranberry marshes in the section of country about Hudson, says the Star, presents a cheering appearance—the cranberry bushes being loaded down with berries. The Minnesota papers report a large yield throughout that state.

Recent census returns give the population of Springfield at 7,050, Urbana 5,400, Bucyrus 3,542, Fremont 3,527.

CHRONICLES.

BY CARRIE VERNON.

CHAPTER I.

Now it came to pass in the fourth year of the reign of Buchanan, the president, and just before he was forced to abdicate his seat in favor of another—even of one Abraham, surnamed Lincoln, that there were two cities which were founded upon a Rock, in the land called Wisconsin.

Now one of these cities was called in those days, Beloit; which word was once accidentally pronounced by one who was striving to give an English word a French termination, for a name to give unto this new made village; and the other city was named from one whose surname was Janes, and who lived in the region thereof; therefore is the city called Janesville, even unto this day.

And it came to pass that in those cities were places where the youths and maidens did meet together to be taught many things after the custom of those days.

And the elders of those cities did give unto certain rabbies power to teach, and rule over all those both small and great, which should gather themselves together in the halls of learning of those cities.

And they were mighty rabbies in word and deed, and did teach as those having authority.

And it came to pass in the fifth month of the same year, even the twenty-fifth day of May, that he of the city of Janesville did send to the one of the other city, saying "behold, now! we are coming, even I, myself, and my pupils, to visit you and your pupils."

And there was great rejoicing among those to whom this word came, and the Rabbi said, "behold, now! on the morrow must we hasten forth to meet them." Then bethought he, that the message had not been given, whether they should come by the way of the iron horse, or by chariots

So they could not do this, neither could they so well entertain strangers, as though they had more time to make preparation; for it was not until the third hour of the first watch of the night, before they were to come that the message was delivered. Moreover, was not the school-building so large or commodious as they wished; yet made they all haste to do whatsoever they might for the entertainment of those which should come unto them.

So it came to pass upon the morrow, that those of the city called Janesville, being assembled all together in one place, even a depot, as it was called, did forthwith enter some large boxes, which were in shape somewhat like unto parallelograms, and were labelled as cars, and thus hasted they as upon the wings of the wind to the other city.

And having soon arrived at the school building were they warmly welcomed by the rabbi and his pupils, and were pleased to listen to the recitations of some classes,—even of one in the science of numbers, called algebra, and also of one which treats of the principles which should govern the use of the English tongue.

After which did they also hear some declamations and compositions, in which exercise certain of their own number joined, and they were all pronounced very good.

Then at the eve, did those of this city accompany the others to the depot, and calling out to each other, with gleeful farewells, and invitations to visit again, and return the visit, did they take their departure, and in a few minutes, even to the number of twenty-four, only, had they passed over twenty miles, and had arrived each in his own city. Then did it come to pass, after many days, that this Rabbi of Beloit, did say to the young men and maidens in his charge: "Hearken ye, and attend to the words of my mouth; is it not meet and proper that we straightway make preparations to return the visit which has been made to us, and spy out the good discipline and hearken to the recitations of the other schools."

And they gave ear, and listened to the meditations of his heart, which he made known to them, and opened their mouths saying "Yea, he it even as thou hast said, straightway will we make ready to go."

And so upon the twenty-fifth day, of the sixth month, even the month of June, did they enter certain vehicles, called carriages, and went out upon the highway, and turned the faces of their horses towards the north, even Janesville ward.

Now there was much joyfulness among these upon this day, for they were mostly members of one enterprising society ycleept "Young America;" and some did drive like unto one ancient, by name Jehu, inasmuch that the wheels of two carriages did come together, and some part of one was broken, thereby causing some of the more timid among the maidens—even four or five of them—to think themselves in jeopardy. But there was no harm suffered to come unto them and they did safely arrive at the city.

And as they drew near unto the school building did they marvel exceedingly at its size and beautiful situation, and the more so as they were conducted into a large reception room, and dressing room, where were lain aside outer garments—even the shawls, caps, hats, dusters and shakers.—Then did they enter the spacious schoolroom, where they did listen to various exercises, among which was one of a branch of mathematics, and also the science of the English tongue, as they were taught in those days, together with certain others called rhetorical exercises, and they pronounced them all very good.

And it came to pass after the Rabbi who presided at this place, had made an ending of these things, that he did invite them to descend from this uppermost room to one lower, where they were out of measure astonished to find a banquet spread for them, of every thing which was pleasant to the eyes and to be desired to make one refreshed. And forthwith were they seated at the banquet and did partake with gratitude and joyfulness of the first fruits of the season—even of the golden southern orange and the rose-hued strawberry.

Then as the evening was approaching, though they would fain have talked longer, did they with pleasant farewells take their departure, being well pleased with everything their eyes had beheld, or lips tasted, or ears listened to, and hastened to return, every one to his own city, and to his own kindred.

But of the pleasures of this day, and how they ascended to the cupola and looked upon the city and river, and of their call at the Blind Institute, where they fain would have lingered, and many other things, behold! are they not all written upon the memories of the students of the High Schools of those two cities.

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE.

BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE,
Office in Union Passenger Depot.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.

The Algerino Zeitung of Augsburgh reports the Chinese ambassador, Tien Sung, dead or dying. Should it be confirmed, it is possible that the allies may receive propositions of peace from Peutig.

A German print says an ukase by the Czar places foreign merchants on an equal footing in Russia with native merchants.

The French steam transport Iser has been lost in the Amer channel with 4,640 tons of powder, and much other material of war.

Buenos Ayres dates of June 14th state that the contract between Buenos Ayres and the Argentine confederation has been ratified and there is every prospect of the establishment of peace.

There was extraordinary activity in business and a large increase of trade with the United States.

SYRACUSE, Aug. 7.

At the afternoon session of the Breckinridge convention, Henry S. Randall was chosen permanent president, and the convention proceeded to business.

A number of gentlemen were put in nomination for candidates for governor, among whom were James T. Brady, Chas. O'Connor and J. A. Dix.

Among the resolutions are the following: That the national committee have no new principles to proclaim and no new doctrine to accept but to renew the protest against the absorption of any other political parties in the discussion of the slavery question, and repeat the question whether this Union is to be preserved for white men or destoyed on account of negroes. That we equally oppose and repudiate the plan for interfering with the right of slaveholders in the territories by act of congress, and the plan of Douglas for interfering with them by unfriendly territorial legislation. That our principles stand defended by the supreme court of the United States in the Dred Scott decision, as the doctrine of the constitution. That we adopt and ratify the platform adopted by Cushing's convention at Baltimore, and accept it as our platform.

The resolutions were drawn up by Gideon J. Tucker, and were received with applause.

The convention then adjourned to find, by telegraph, some man in the state who would accept the nomination for governor.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 8.

Coombs' election is conceded by everybody, majority variously estimated. As far as heard from, in 35 counties, Coombs leads 13,000. The Breckinridge wing in this section complain that the Douglas wing transferred a large portion of their votes from their nominee to Coombs. Coombs' majority therefore depends upon the action of the two wings of the democracy in counties to be heard from, which are inaccessible by railroad or telegraph. Some days will be yet required to ascertain the final result.

CINCINNATI, August 8.

A Bell and Everett county convention yesterday nominated a full county ticket.—Larz Anderson was nominated to congress from the 1st district. Hon. John Scott Harrison for the 2d dist.

ORGANIZATION OF A BRECKINRIDGE CLUB.—At a meeting of the central democratic club of the city and county of Milwaukee—O. Alexander in the chair, held on the evening of the 2d inst., at the office of H. L. Davis, Young's block. The committee appointed at a previous meeting to draft a constitution, reported—which report was accepted and the constitution adopted.

On motion a committee consisting of Messrs. Jenkins, Swineford, Crampton, Davis and Bade, were appointed to report the names of permanent officers for the association, and after some deliberation, reported through their chairman the names of the following gentlemen:

For president, Sidney L. Rood.
For recording sec'y, John Horan.
For corresponding sec'y, J. G. Jenkins.
For treasurer, I. H. Crampton.
Executive committee—J. A. Noonan, F. Henry, H. L. Davis, A. Bade and A. G. Ellis.

On motion the meeting adjourned to meet at the same place on Saturday evening.—Mil. Enquirer.

THE GERMANS.—It is with the utmost satisfaction that we are able to announce positively a large accession to the republican ranks of these steady and order-loving men from all parts of the state, and we trust that, engaged in the common cause that should knit us in the very strongest ties, we may act in the most perfect union. It is high time that old jealousies of the race should disappear, and that our different peculiarities should be looked on with a tolerant eye on both sides. We feel positive that few from the old fatherland can read the soul-stirring speeches of their gallant and accomplished brother, Carl Schurz, without feeling that nothing but the "right absolute" could prompt such eolquence.

It is with pride and satisfaction that the American Republic hails the advent of such a man to her ranks and we are bound to respect and esteem as we do, the compatriots of such a man.—St. Paul Times.

A NEEDLE IN A MAN AT LEAST NINE YEARS.—Yesterday, a needle made its appearance just above the hip of a workman in one of the Mississippi R. R. shops, and was pulled out without any particular pain or trouble. The person from whom it was taken, says he first felt it nine years ago, in his left arm just above the elbow, and since then he has felt it in his right leg below the knee, and then above the knee, and afterwards above his hip where it was pulled out. He thinks he must have swallowed it when a child, and if so it has had a long journey through his system, as he is now well advanced. He is in good health, and has never suffered particularly from it.

THE MAIDEN'S SOLILOQUY.—'To marry or not to marry;' that is the question.—Whether 'tis nobler in mind to suffer the slings and arrows of despised single blessedness, or to take one against a sea of troubles, and by marrying, end them? 'To marry;'—'to settle down;'—much more;—and by the act, to say I end the heart ache, and the thousand endless taunts that I am heir to. 'Tis a consummation devoutly to be wished.

'To marry;' ay; there's the rub. For in that life of matrimony, what troubles may come. When I have given away this heart of mine: Must give me pause. There's the way that makes calamity of many a life. But who would bear the whims and scorns of single life—the oppressor's wrong—the old maid's contumely—the pangs of despised love—death's delay—the insolence of all; and the spurns that patient merit of the unworthy takes: When I myself might my happiness make with a mere husband?—Who would these miseries bear to mourn and linger under a weary life; but that the dread of trouble after marriage—the unknown future from whose fate no traveler returns—puzzles the heart; and makes me rather bear these ills I have, than to fly to others that I know not of.

Thus apprehension does make cowards of us all, and thus the happy hue of resolution sicklied o'er with the pale cast of dread, and enterprises of great pith and moment, with this before them, turn those currents away; and I fear, I lose the name of "wife."

DOGBERRY.

THE SOUND OF GROWING CORN.—Did you ever hear corn grow? You have probably heard the remark, "our corn grows so fast that you can hear it." That is supposed, people who don't know, to be a figure of speech only; but the remark out here is a literal fact. Go into one of these "bottom" corn fields forty or fifty rods on a warm July day, or August night, when a bright moon is up (for vegetation grows faster in moonlight than in darkness,) and a few hours after a heavy shower that has fairly wet the earth, and waked up the drowsy corn to its influences, and as the main stalk stretches and swells in its new strength up through the contracted lips of the upper blades, they crack and burst around you like the stifled reports of ten thousand rifles!—That cornfield will be some inches higher at sunrise the next morning than at the last sundown. There is no mistake about it. We have heard corn grow many a time, and so every farmer along the Sciota valley will tell you.—The World.

AN EXTRA PASSENGER.—An amusing scene took place on the steamer Baltimore, just as she was leaving for Cleveland. A rough looking genius came aboard with a powerful bull dog at his heels. Walking directly into the office, the individual said to the clerk:

"Stranger, I want to leave my dog in this office till the boat starts; I'm afraid somebody will steal him."

"You can't do it," said the clerk, "take him out."

"Well, stranger, that's cruel, but you're both dispositioned alike, and he's kinder company for you."

"Take him out," roared the clerk.

"Well, stranger, I don't think you're honest, and want watching. Here, Bull sit down here, and watch that fellow sharp," and the individual turned on his heels saying—"Put him out, stranger if he's troublesome."

The dog lay there when the boat started, the clerk giving him the better part of his office.

HOW TO DESTROY THE CURCULIO.—William Archer, a nurseryman of Utica, New York, says:

RECIPE.—Procure a tin pail, punch holes in the bottom, procure a pole that will reach above the top of your plum trees; fill said pail with airslacked lime; hold the whole thing over your plum trees, in the morning before the dew is off; strike lightly on the pole and sprinkle the lime on the trees.—Repeat this operation say about three times, and your plum crop is safe. The curculio wont work where lime is.

POPULATION AND WEALTH OF NEW YORK CITY.—According to the Tribune the U. S. census will show a population of 862,257 in New York city, against 629,310 in 1855—being an increase of some two hundred and thirty two thousand in five years. The value of the real and personal estate of New York is set down at over seven hundred millions.

$1,500 REWARD!
A Double Murderer at Large.

THE above reward is offered for the arrest of B. A. McComb, and his delivery to me or the sheriff of Wapello county, Iowa. Of this $500 is offered by the governor of Iowa, $500 by the citizens of Ottumwa, Iowa, and $500 by the county of Winnebago, Illinois.

DESCRIPTION OF MC COMB.

McComb is about 30 years old, about 5 feet 9 inches high, very dark complexion, very straight form, weighs about 150 or 160 pounds, has a good set of teeth, very black hair with a little gray interspersed, has a small gray spot in his hair near his forehead caused by a scar on the head, has blue or hazle eyes, downcast look, very black, heavy beard when not shaved, has a scar on or near the top of one of his feet the shape of a dent that would receive three or four kernels of wheat. He usually carries a Colt's six shooter, silver mounted, and is a good marksman with it; is a notorious villain and horse thief, and served a term of six years in the Illinois state prison for robbing the mail; is connected with a gang of horse thieves in northern Illinois, and which is known goes by the name of "Lant McComb."

On the 19th of March last, one George Lawrence seduced Laura J. Harvey from her home in Rockford, Ill., and by agreement met with McComb. On the 27th of March the three arrived at Ottumwa, and on the night of the 29th Lawrence and Miss Harvey were both murdered by McComb. The body of Miss Harvey was found in the Des Moines river at Ottumwa, on the morning of March 30th. The remains of George Lawrence were found on Identity on the 25th of July. Shortly after the murder was committed McComb was traced to Iowa City, where he disposed of the wagon and team, which belonged to Lawrence, and from there to his father's house, near Rockford, Ill., and from there to Beloit and Madison, Wis., at which places distinct trace of him was lost. County Republican Committee.

A meeting of the Rock County Republican Committee will be held at the office of the Gazette and Free Press, MONDAY AFTERNOON, at 2 o'clock, August 13th, to transact important business. It is desirable that every member of the committee should be present.

B. E. HALE, Ch'n.

CHAS. HOLT, Sec'y.

SOME DIFFERENCE.—The telegraph, as it came to us yesterday, reported the number attending the republican meeting in Oswego, N. Y., at 4,000. The same report in the Milwaukee papers make the number 14,000. A slight difference.

On Sunday night last, a party of Wide Awakes in Lowell, Mass., took down the Breckinridge and Lane flag, which was suspended from the Museum building in that city. The next morning nothing but a small strip of the flag was seen attached to the line on which it had been run out.—Madison Argus.

Rowdyism is not confined to the republican party. Four years ago, a fine Fremont and Dayton flag belonging to the Gazette office, and suspended from the building in which the paper was then printed, was torn down by a gang of democratic rowdies and burned in a saloon kept by a democrat. We do not recollect that the Argus denounced that outrage.

BE CAREFUL!—The Detroit Free Press has the following:

"Bills of the Bank of Commerce, of Erie, Pa., are looked upon with much suspicion by the bankers of this city. We are informed that a large amount of this money has been recently precipitated upon the public, the bank issuing it refusing to take it again on deposit. A large amount of it has been sent into this state for the purchase of wheat. It is looked upon as a swindle, bankers considering that the design is to force a large amount of it into circulation, and then to allow the bank to close against its redemption. Those who handle much money will do well to be careful of all bills of this bank."

We do not know that any of these bills have found their way into this section of the country, but it will do no harm for every body, as the new crop is coming into market, to be cautious in receiving the money offered in payment. There are too many men who will attempt to force a worthless currency into circulation, and reap a rich harvest at the expense of a victimized community. An abundance of unquestionable money can be procured for the purchase of the coming crop. Probably there is in Janesville now as good currency as can be found in the state, at least we hear no complaints about it, and if it can be kept up to the present standard, any losses that may occur will be one of the ordinary risks of business, and not a premeditated swindle.

OFFICE OF SUP'T OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.
MADISON, 7th Aug., 1860.

Editors of Gazette and Free Press, Janesville, Wis:—

In your weekly issue of Aug. 2d, I notice the statement that town superintendents must make their annual reports to the clerk of the board of supervisors by the 15th inst. This is a mistake. The district clerks are not required to make their reports to the town superintendents till next month (between the 1st and 10th), and the town superintendents have from the 15th to the 25th of the same month to make their reports to the clerk of the board of supervisors. By giving this a place in your paper you will correct any misapprehensions caused by your former article, and oblige

Yours truly, A. J. CRAIG,
Ass't State Superintendent.

MADISON CITY DEBT.—The common council of the city of Madison have adopted a proposition tendering to the holders of the bonds of that city, issued for municipal and railroad purposes, 30 cents on a dollar of the amount due on the same; new bonds to be issued for the sum, with 20 years to run, and bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum; an instalment of 5 per cent. a year to be paid on the principal to such as desire it. When all the holders of these bonds accept this proposition, the new bonds are to be issued and the old ones cancelled. The resolutions express the opinion that this is all the city can pay, but that with this compromise the citizens will exert themselves to pay promptly.

An agent was directed to be chosen by the council to confer with the bondholders, and endeavor to obtain their consent to the foregoing stipulations, and with authority to bind the city to the same.

The indebtedness of Madison is pretty heavy. A loan of $100,000 was made in the start for municipal purposes; whither there are other bonds of this character we do not know; $50,000 was issued to the state to aid in the capitol enlargement, and the issue of railroad bonds has been to a considerable extent. A proposal to compromise at 30 cents on the dollar for indebtedness incurred for municipal purposes looks a good deal like bankruptcy.

BENEFIT OF A BAROMETER.—A farmer, Underwood, of Aurelius, in this state, secured his entire crop of hay the present summer by consulting the barometer. The morning he commenced cutting his hay it looked cloudy and felt like rain, still the barometer pointed unerringly to dry weather, and on the strength of that the hay was cut, cured and secured before any rain made its appearance. But for the barometer the hay would have been left standing, subject to the vicissitudes of uncertain weather.—This instrument is a sure indicator of an approaching change in the weather, and every farmer should consider it as essential an article as a plow or reaper. In many cases, it would save its cost in a single season.

Our "devil" wanting to kiss his sweetheart, addressed her as follows: "Miss Lucy, can I have the privilege putting my 'imprint' on your 'bill.'"

From the Rockford Register.

Letter From Pike's Peak.

Our townsman, Francis D. Camman, Esq., has handed us the following extracts from a letter received by him from his son at Pike's Peak. It will be found interesting:

YANKEE BAR, Clear Creek, July 15, '60.

* * * * * My time for the last two weeks has been occupied in prospecting Yankee Bar, and it will probably take another week to thoroughly prospect it. It is my opinion that when we do prospect it to the bed rock, we will strike it very rich, and that is the opinion of all our company, which consists of twenty-five men, principally from Janesville, Wisconsin. But I do not expect to realize a great deal from it, although I have as large an interest as any of the company, so I shall not be disappointed if it should be a failure. The next bar above us, and also the next below us are paying well. Spanish bar is the second one above Yankee bar, and one claim on it was sold for $3,000, cash, about two weeks ago, but that is an exception. Yankee bar is considered one of the best on Clear Creek. It is very large and will cost us about $1100 to prospect it, counting our time at $2.50 per day, which are the going wages at present. This is the reason that it was not taken up last fall.

Most of our party live in tents. Mr. Allen, from Janesville, and myself built a bough house, and we have a very comfortable place to sleep. Our bed is of spruce boughs, and it is as good as any mattrass. We also built a place to eat in; our bill of fare is not quite as large as some of the hotels in the states, but we manage to live. We have to pack our provisions over the mountains about eight miles from Mountain City, and all kinds of provisions are very high here. Flour, $17 per hundred; bacon, 30 cents per pound; sugar, 30c; coffee, 35c. Butter is now selling in Mountain City at six shillings per pound. We have not bought any yet, nor have I had any for six weeks. There are no potatoes in the market. One bushel was sold in Denver a few days since, for seed, for fourteen dollars.

I intend to cross Snowy Range next fall if I am able, as I know there are some rich diggings there. It is about ninety miles to where I intend to go. There will be a party of three, I think. To-morrow we intend to commence running our sluices, and expect to pay grub, as it is called here, and it will grow richer as we go down. Probably the next letter you receive will tell you something more definite about this bar, at least I hope so. Mining is very hard work indeed, but I have got so that I can work pretty well, considering the work I have to do. Money is very scarce in the mountains. As yet, not many quartz mills have been put in operation. Everybody is paying out what little money they have to get started. I think the mills will pay well. A mill just below Mr. Patterson's washed up $1,840 last night, as three days' work, running day and night. There are a great many returning to the states, six going to one coming. The most of them them come here and find all the claims taken up, turn round immediately and go back. We had pretty hard work to get our claim. We jumped it on the night of the 20th of June, and had a law suit about it, which was decided in our favor. It was all fair, but of course we had to have a suit about it.

Life Insurance.

Those desiring this safest and cheapest protection for their families, can secure it in our Wisconsin company. It has already become, in reality, a state institution, having agents and patrons among the best business men in all the principal towns in the state. It is no longer a matter of doubt that life insurance can be conducted as well in Wisconsin as in Connecticut or any other eastern state.

While duty demands that men should insure their lives, it also demands that they should keep their money for investment at home. Confident that our success has been more than equal to that of the most "unprecedented," we would cordially invite all our citizens to call at the office, southwest corner of Main and Wisconsin streets, and examine for themselves.

S. S. DAGGETT, President.
A. W. KELLOGG, Secretary.

Messrs. Pixley & Harlow, produce dealers, and Capt. Geo. S. Dodge will receive applications for insurance in this home company, and will also be happy to give information as to the condition thereof, to any one desirous of being informed, in Janesville. apr13dawly

The Booth Case--Both Sides of It.

The rescue of Booth from the democratic Bastile in Milwaukee, the abortive attempt made to re-arrest him at Ripon, and the probability of a fture attempt which may or may not be successful, has brought himself and his case again prominently before the public. As a prisoner under a revolting law; arrested by an odious administration for the express purpose of exhibiting and enforcing the most odious features of that law, and with the desire and expectation of arousing a forcible resistance to its execution to alarm the timid and prop up the decaying fortunes of a desperate party; subjected to every annoyance and irritation of an imbecile and tyrannical keeper, a widespread sympathy in the public mind had been excited for Mr. Booth, and a very general satisfaction expressed at his escape.

But while this view will be kept steadily in mind, there is another light in which Mr. Booth will be exhibited, and which no amount of the detestation of the law under which he was imprisoned, and no degree of indignation towards his persecutors will prevent having its influence upon the public sentiment and feeling. Unfortunately for himself and those friends who saw a great principle involved in his imprisonment, he stood charged with a monster crime against morality and the public virtue, and infested with the odor of an offence in its turpitude little less than incest. Any man having the least remnant of self-respect, would have been glad to seek in obscurity forgetfulness of his abasement, even at the expense of quiet submission to grievous wrong. Yet when his persecutors had satisfied their hate or been balked in the object desired by his imprisonment, and were willing to so far aid in his escape as to permit him to leave the state without molestation, if he had chosen to do so, he not only makes no concealment of his place of refuge, but openly defies the power from which he has been released, and seeks to precipitate the conflict he once failed to arouse.

We do not say or think that this latter view should absorb the former, or that the personal infamy of the subject should override the outrage committed upon him, and through him upon every northern freeman who may aid a fugitive slave in his attempt to escape from his servitude; but we do say and do think, we wish we had a better man to test the questions at issue in his arrest and imprisonment.

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTIONS.—The democratic convention for the first district meets in Milwaukee on the 16th inst.

The republican convention for the second district meets at La Crosse on the 22d inst.

The democratic convention for the second district meets at Prairie du Chien on the 29th inst.

The republican convention for the third district meets at Ripon, September 5th.

The democratic convention for the third district meets at Fond du Lac on the 31st inst.

Candidates for each of these conventions are numerous as blackberries in a good bearing season. Wisconsin has at least 100,000 men every way qualified to represen the state at Washington, and each of whom is willing to sacrifice himself for the public welfare.

GOV. SEWARD'S WESTERN TRIP.—It is stated, on the authority of an Auburn (N. Y.) paper that Gov. Seward will speak at Madison on the 8th of September. The central committee have not yet announced the day, and we hope, with the Madison Journal, that a day or two earlier will be selected as the 8th of September, coming on Saturday, will seriously interfere with the return home of the thousands who will desire to hear him.

In connection with this announcement, the same authority says that Gov. S. will speak in Michigan on the 1st, in Minnesota on the 15th, in Chicago on a day to be fixed by the city committee, and at Cleveland and Pittsburgh before his return to Auburn.

While the "dough faces" are falsely accusing republicans of desiring to abolish slavery in the states, they are practically abolishing freedom in the territories.

The Squatterite.

"If this great, outrageous fellow,
Goes on thus a little longer,
Tearing everything he touches,
Rending everything to pieces,
Filling all the world with wonder
What becomes of the Puk-Wudjies?
Who will care for the Puk-Wudjies?"
[Longfellow.

Of the wondrous "Little Giant,"
Who so loftily approaches
The dear people; and professes
Great regard for all their wishes;
With a vision of such clearness
As to see, in the dim distance,
Far beyond the ken of mortals—
Common mortals such as we are
Who are not so highly favored
With a sight of future glories—
What is sometimes called the "White House,"
Where he hopes, in full fruition
Of the many blessings found there,
Hopes to rest from all his sorrows;
And those sturdy warriors with him,
Who have fought and bled and floundered
Through the black and reeking quagmires
Of political corruption!
Where so many still do wallow
Like a fat and puffing porpoise,
Of this "Leader," "Squatter Sovereign,"
"Little Giant," or "Brobdinag,"
"Stump-Speech-Interjecting-Doctor,"
Or whatever else you call him;
Let us now, with careful "squintage"
Take a view—an observation.
Whence he came, it matters not now,
Nor how much or little noticed
Ere his curious gyrations,
And his "grand and lofty tumbling"
In the political arena,
To secure the sweet approval
Of the dear and cherished people
Who were called upon to witness
With what ease and how completely
He could balance on that great line
Drawn in Eighteen Hundred Twenty;
But while balancing most finely,
On this line; and smiling blandly,
Smiling with his visage northward
Viewing an approving people;
All at once there rose behind him,
From a cloud of sable darkness,
Resting in the south most dismal,
Roaring, like the fiery dragons
That are found in ancient story;
Serpent hissings from this cloud came
Against the trembling Little Giant,
Who, no longer calm and careful,
Fell off backwards, into darkness;
There for many days remaining,
Passing through a transformation;
Loosing honor's bright effulgence;
Losing all that's worth the having;
He came out another being.
The brightness of his soul was darkened;
Darkened were his mind and feelings;
Darkened were his future prospects,
And that sable cloud still hovers
Like a pall of darkness o'er him,
And the storm of indignation
Which is gathering slow but surely;
From the north and west is coming
With a sound, deep and portentious,
To overwhelm this "puffing leader,"
Leader of the dismal forces;
Marching off in solemn cadence,
To the music of disunion.
Still the path of sorrow tread they,
Oft the eyes of some are opened
To behold the fearful ruin
That awaits these blinded mortals,
And they fly to "save their bacon"
From such wonderful destruction.
Yet this leader presses onward,
Puffing always, puffing over,
And the little puffers follow,
Puffing after their great leader.
Sad the lot of the forsaken;
Gloom and sorrow now attend them.
Turn then friends, oh turn in season,
Turn and follow after Abram.

K.

LARRABEE'S OPINION.—Mr. Larrabee, as reported by the Ozaukee Advertiser, in a recent speech at Port Washington, said—"As matters now stood, it was his opinion that the election would go to the house of representatives."—Madison Argus.

This would give "our Charley" a chance to gratify his dodging propensites. He can support Douglas in Wisconsin and Breckinridge in Washington. If Douglas turns up winner, he is all right with the "Little Giant," but if Breckinridge or Joe Lane takes the pile he will ask for a share in the distribution—first, for voting indirectly to carry the election into the house, and then voting directly for the successful candidate.

THE ELECTION OF FRANK BLAIR.—At the congressional election in St. Louis, in 1858, the vote for member of congress stood as follows:

Barrett (dem.)	7,058
Blair (rep.)	6,631
Breckinridge (Am.)	5,668

The majority of Barrett was obtained by the grossest of frauds, and Mr. Blair contested the election. After a thorough and searching investigation, Barrett was turned out of his seat, and Mr. Blair admitted.—The latter at once resigned, and referred the matter back to his constituents.

At the election which came off on Monday last, a member was to be elected to fill the vacancy for the unexpired term of the present congress, and also a member for the next congress. Blair and Barrett were nominated by their respective parties for both the vacancy and the long term. The Americans made no nomination for the vacancy, but ran Albert Todd, Esq., for the long term. The leaders of the Americans bargained with the democracy to defeat Blair for the short term.

The canvass has been one of the most exciting ever witnessed in that city. Immense meetings and processions have been the order every night for weeks. The whole country has looked forward to the result with unusual interest. At the time of this writing it is still a matter of doubt as to who is elected for the short term; but for the long term Blair is elected by a triumphant majority. The figures in our dispatches indicate that his majority will fall little, if any, below one thousand.

The result is a triumphant vindication of Mr. Blair, proving conclusively the correctness of the charges of fraud preferred against the democracy in the election of 1858. If Barrett is elected for the short term, it is through American votes. In 1858, these votes were polled for Breckinridge, the American candidate. The true test was on the long term, and Blair leads his competitor by nearly a thousand votes.

The election of Mr. Blair will be hailed with peculiar gratification by the friends of freedom and of good government throughout the country. Among that noble band who, upon the floor of Congress, will sustain the administration of Abraham Lincoln, and aid in carrying out sound republican principles, he will hold a conspicuous place. The gallant fight which he has waged for years against wrong and injustice, in the presence of the slave power, and the courage and resolution with which he has ever met its fiercest assaults, prove him to be eminently fitted for official station in times like the present. All honor to the people of St. Louis county for rightly appreciating his noble qualities and for giving him again to the nation.—Press and Tribune.

The cranberry marshes in the section of country about Hudson, says the Star, presents a cheering appearance—the cranberry bushes being loaded down with berries. The Minnesota papers report a large yield throughout that state.

Recent census returns give the population of Springfield at 7,050, Urbana 5,400, Bucyrus 3,542, Fremont 3,527.

CHRONICLES.

BY CARRIE VERNON.

CHAPTER I.

Now it came to pass in the fourth year of the reign of Buchanan, the president, and just before he was forced to abdicate his seat in favor of another—even of one Abraham, surnamed Lincoln, that there were two cities which were founded upon a Rock, in the land called Wisconsin.

Now one of these cities was called in those days, Beloit; which word was once accidentally pronounced by one who was striving to give an English word a French termination, for a name to give unto this new made village; and the other city was named from one whose surname was Janes, and who lived in the region thereof; therefore is the city called Janesville, even unto this day.

And it came to pass that in those cities were places where the youths and maidens did meet together to be taught many things after the custom of those days.

And the elders of those cities did give unto certain rabbies power to teach, and rule over all those both small and great, which should gather themselves together in the halls of learning of those cities.

And they were mighty rabbies in word and deed, and did teach as those having authority.

And it came to pass in the fifth month of the same year, even the twenty-fifth day of May, that he of the city of Janesville did send to the one of the other city, saying "behold, now I we are coming, even I, myself, and my pupils, to visit you and your pupils."

And there was great rejoicing among those to whom this word came, and the Rabbi said, "behold, now! on the morrow must we hasten forth to meet them." Then bethought he, that the message had not been given, whether they should come by the way of the iron horse, or by chariots

So they could not do this, neither could they so well entertain strangers, as though they had more time to make preparation; for it was not until the third hour of the first watch of the night, before they were to come that the message was delivered. Moreover, was not the school-building so large or commodious as they wished; yet made they all haste to do whatsoever they might for the entertainment of those which should come unto them.

So it came to pass upon the morrow, that those of the city called Janesville, being assembled all together in one place, even a depot, as it was called, did forthwith enter some large boxes, which were in shape somewhat like unto parallelograms, and were labelled as cars, and thus hasted they as upon the wings of the wind to the other city.

And having soon arrived at the school building were they warmly welcomed by the rabbi and his pupils, and were pleased to listen to the recitations of some classes,—even of one in the science of numbers, called algebra, and also of one which treats of the principles which should govern the use of the English tongue.

After which did they also hear some declamations and compositions, in which exercise certain of their own number joined, and they were all pronounced very good.

Then at the eve, did those of this city accompany the others to the depot, and calling out to each other, with gleeful farewells, and invitations to visit again, and return the visit, did they take their departure, and in a few minutes, even to the number of twenty-four, only, had they passed over twenty miles, and had arrived each in his own city. Then did it come to pass, after many days, that this Rabbi of Beloit, did say to the young men and maidens in his charge: "Hearken ye, and attend to the words of my mouth; is it not meet and proper that we straightway make preparations to return the visit which has been made to us, and spy out the good discipline and hearken to the recitations of the other schools."

And they gave ear, and listened to the meditations of his heart, which he made known to them, and opened their mouths saying "Yea, be it even as thou hast said, straightway will we make ready to go."

And so upon the twenty-fifth day, of the sixth month, even the month of June, did they enter certain vehicles, called carriages, and went out upon the highway, and turned the faces of their horses towards the north, even Janesville ward.

Now there was much joyfulness among these upon this day, for they were mostly members of one enterprising society pelept "Young America;" and some did drive like unto one ancient, by name Jehu, inasmuch that the wheels of two carrriages did come together, and some part of one was broken, thereby causing some of the more timid among the maidens—even four or five of them—to think themselves in jeopardy. But there was no harm suffered to come unto them and they did safely arrive at the city.

And as they drew near unto the school building did they marvel exceedingly at its size and beautiful situation, and the more so as they were conducted into a large reception room, and dressing room, where were lain aside outer garments—even the shawls, caps, hats, dusters and shakers.—Then did they enter the spacious schoolroom, where they did listen to various exercises, among which was one of a branch of mathematics, and also the science of the English tongue, as they were taught in those days, together with certain others called rhetorical exercises, and they pronounced them all very good.

And it came to pass after the Rabbi who presided at this place, had made an ending of these things, that he did invite them to descend from this uppermost room to one lower, where they were out of measure astonished to find a banquet spread for them, of every thing which was pleasant to the eyes and to be desired to make one refreshed. And forthwith were they seated at the banquet and did partake with gratitude and joyfulness of the first fruits of the season—even of the golden southern orange and the rose-hued strawberry.

Then as the evening was approaching, though they would fain have talked longer, did they with pleasant farewells take their departure, being well pleased with everything their eyes had beheld, or lips tasted, or ears listened to, and hastened to return, every one to his own city, and to his own kindred.

But of the pleasures of this day, and how they ascended to the cupola and looked upon the city and river, and of their call at the Blind Institute, where they fain would have lingered, and many other things, behold! are they not all written upon the memories of the students of the High Schools of those two cities.

SYRACUSE, Aug. 7.

At the afternoon session of the Breckinridge convention, Henry S. Randall was chosen permanent president, and the convention proceeded to business.

A number of gentlemen were put in nomination for candidates for governor, among whom were James T. Brady, Chas. O'Connor and J. A. Dix.

Among the resolutions are the following: That the national committee have no new principles to proclaim and no new doctrine to accept but to renew the protest against the absorption of any other political parties in the discussion of the slavery question, and repeat the question whether this Union is to be preserved for white men or destoyed on account of negroes. That we equally oppose and repudiate the plan for interfering with the right of slaveholders in the territories by act of congress, and the plan of Douglas for interfering with them by unfriendly territorial legislation. That our principles stand defended by the supreme court of the United States in the Dred Scott decision, as the doctrine of the constitution. That we adopt and ratify the platform adopted by Cushing's convention at Baltimore, and accept it as our platform.

The resolutions were drawn up by Gideon J. Tucker, and were received with applause.

The convention then adjourned to find, by telegraph, some man in the state who would accept the nomination for governor.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 8.

Coombs' election is conceded by everybody, majority variously estimated. As far as heard from, in 35 counties, Coombs leads 13,000. The Breckinridge wing in this section complain that the Douglas wing transferred a large portion of their votes from their nominee to Coombs. Coombs' majority therefore depends upon the action of the two wings of the democracy in counties to be heard from, which are inaccessible by railroad or telegraph. Some days will be yet required to ascertain the final result.

ORGANIZATION OF A BRECKINRIDGE CLUB.—At a meeting of the central democratic club of the city and county of Milwaukee—O. Alexander in the chair, held on the evening of the 2d inst., at the office of H. L. Davis, Young's block. The committee appointed at a previous meeting to draft a constitution, reported—which report was accepted and the constitution adopted.

On motion a committee consisting of Messrs. Jenkins, Swineford, Crampton, Davis and Bade, were appointed to report the names of permanent officers for the association, and after some deliberation, reported through their chairman the names of the following gentlemen:

For president, Sidney L. Rood.
For recording sec'y, John Horan.
For corresponding sec'y, J. G. Jenkins.
For treasurer, I. H. Crampton.
Executive committee—J. A. Noonan, F. Henry, H. L. Davis, A. Bade and A. G. Ellis.

On motion the meeting adjourned to meet at the same place on Saturday evening.—Mil. Enquirer.

THE GERMANS.—It is with the utmost satisfaction that we are able to announce positively a large accession to the republican ranks of these steady and order-loving men from all parts of the state, and we trust that, engaged in the common cause that should knit us in the very strongest ties, we may act in the most perfect unison. It is high time that old jealousies of the race should disappear, and that our different peculiarities should be looked on with a tolerant eye on both sides. We feel positive that few from the old fatherland can read the soul-stirring speeches of their gallant and accomplished brother, Carl Schurz, without feeling that nothing but the "right absolute" could prompt such eolqaence.

It is with pride and satisfaction that the American Republic hails the advent of such a man to her ranks and we are bound to respect and esteem as we do, the compatriots of such a man.—St. Paul Times.

A NEEDLE IN A MAN AT LEAST NINE YEARS.—Yesterday, a needle made its appearance just above the hip of a workman in one of the Mississippi R. R. shops, and was pulled out without any particular pain or trouble. The person from whom it was taken, says he first felt it nine years ago, in his left arm just above the elbow, and since then he hac felt it in his right leg below the knee, and then above the knee, and afterwards above his hip where it was pulled out. He thinks he must have swallowed it when a child, and if so it has had a long journey through his system, as he is now well advanced. He is in good health, and has never suffered particularly from it.

THE MAIDEN'S SOLILOQUY.—'To marry or not to marry;' that is the question.—Whether 'tis nobler in mind to suffer the slings and arrows of despised single blessedness, or to take one against a sea of troubles, and by marrying, end them? 'To marry;'—'to settle down;'—much more;—and by the act, to say I end the heart ache, and the thousand endless taunts that I am heir to. 'Tis a consummation devoutly to be wished.

'To marry;' ay; there'a the rub. For in that life of matrimony, what troubles may come. When I have given away this heart of mine: Must give me pause. There's the way that makes calamity of many a life. But who would bear the whims and scorns of single life—the oppressor's wrong—the old maid's contumely—the pangs of despised love—death's delay—the insolence of all; and the spurns that patient merit of the unworthy takes: When I myself might my happiness make with a mere husband?—Who would these miseries bear to mourn and linger under a weary life; but that the dread of trouble after marriage—the unknown future from whose fate no traveler returns—puzzles the heart; and makes me rather bear these ills I have, than to fly to others that I know not of.

Thus apprehension does make cowards of us all, and thus the happy hue of resolution sicklied o'er with the pale cast of dread, and enterprises of great pith and moment, with this before them, turn those currents away; and I fear, I lose the name of "wife."

DOGBERRY.

THE SOUND OF GROWING CORN.—Did you ever hear corn grow? You have probably heard the remark, "our corn grows so fast that you can hear it." That is supposed, people who don't know, to be a figure of speech only; but the remark out here is a literal fact. Go into one of these "bottom" corn fields forty or fifty rods on a warm July day, or August night, when a bright moon is up (for vegetation grows faster in moonlight than in darkness,) and a few hours after a heavy shower that has fairly wet the earth, and waked up the drowsy corn to its influences, and as the main stalk stretches and swells in its new strength up through the contracted lips of the upper blades, they crack and burst around you like the stifled reports of ten thousand rifles!—That cornfield will be some inches higher at sunrise the next morning than at the last sundown. There is no mistake about it. We have heard corn grow many a time, and so every farmer along the Sciota valley will tell you.—The World.

AN EXTRA PASSENGER.—An amusing scene took place on the steamer Baltimore, just as she was leaving for Cleveland. A rough looking genius came aboard with a powerful bull dog at his heels. Walking directly into the office, the individual said to the clerk:

"Stranger, I want to leave my dog in this office till the boat starts; I'm afraid somebody will steal him."

"You can't do it," said the clerk, "take him out."

"Well, stranger, that's cruel, but you're both dispositioned alike, and he's kinder company for you."

"Take him out," roared the clerk.

"Well, stranger, I don't think you're honest, and want watching. Here, Bull sit down here, and watch that fellow sharp," and the individual turned on his heels saying—"Put him out, stranger if he's troublesome."

The dog lay there when the boat started, the clerk giving him the better part of his office.

HOW TO DESTROY THE CURCULIO.—William Archer, a nurseryman of Utica, New York, says:

RECIPE.—Procure a tin pail, punch holes in the bottom, procure a pole that will reach above the top of your plum trees; fill said pail with airslacked lime; hold the whole thing over your plum trees, in the morning before the dew is off; strike lightly on the pole and sprinkle the lime on the trees.—Repeat this operation say about three times, and your plum crop is safe. The curculio wont work where lime is.

POPULATION AND WEALTH OF NEW YORK CITY.—According to the Tribune the U. S. census will show a population of 862,257 in New York city, against 629,310 in 1855—being an increase of some two hundred and thirty two thousand in five years. The value of the real and personal estate of New York is set down at over seven hundred millions.

$1,500 REWARD!
A Double Murderer at Large.

THE above reward is offered for the arrest of B. A. McCOMB, and his delivery to me or the sheriff of Wapello county, Iowa. Of this, $500 is offered by the governor of Iowa, $500 by the citizens of Ottumwa, Iowa, and $500 by the county of Winnebago, Illinois.

DESCRIPTION OF MC COMB.

McComb is about 30 years old, about 5 feet 8 inches high, very dark complexion, very straight form, weighs about 150 or 160 pounds, has a good set of teeth, very black hair with a little gray intespersed, has a small gray spot in his hair near his forehead, caused by a scar on the head, has blue or hazle eyes, downcast look, very black, heavy beard when not shaved, has a scar on or near the top of one of his feet the shape of a dent that would receive three or four kernels of wheat. He usually carries a Colt's six shooter, silver mounted, and is a good marksman with it; is a notorious villain and horse thief, and served a term of six years in the Illinois state prison for robbing the mail; is connected with a gang of horse thieves in northern Illinois, and where he is known goes by the name of "Lant McComb."
On the 10th of March last, one George Lawrence abducted Laura J. Harvey from her home in Rockford, Ill., and by agreement met with McComb. On the 27th of March the three arrived at Ottumwa, and on the night of the 29th Lawrence and Miss Harvey were both murdered by McComb. The body of Miss Harvey was found in the DesMoines river, at Ottumwa, on the morning of March 30th. The remains of George Lawrence were found and identified on the 28th of July. Shortly after the murder was committed McComb was traced to Iowa City, where he disposed of the wagon and team, which belonged to Lawrence, and from there to his father's house, near Rockford, Ill., and from there to Beloit and Madison, Wis., at which place a distinct trace of him was lost. County Republican Committee.

A meeting of the Rock County Republican Committee will be held at the office of the Gazette and Free Press, MONDAY AFTERNOON, at 2 o'clock, August 13th, to transact important business. It is desirable that every member of the committee should be present.

B. E. HALE, Ch'n.

CHAS. HOLT, Sec'y.

SOME DIFFERENCE.—The telegraph, as it came to us yesterday, reported the number attending the republican meeting in Oswego, N. Y., at 4,000. The same report in the Milwaukee papers make the number 14,000. A slight difference.

On Sunday night last, a party of Wide Awakes in Lowell, Mass., took down the Breckinridge and Lane flag, which was suspended from the Museum building in that city. The next morning nothing but a small strip of the flag was seen attached to the line on which it had been run out.—Madison Argus.

Rowdyism is not confined to the republican party. Four years ago, a fine Fremont and Dayton flag belonging to the Gazette office, and suspended from the building in which the paper was then printed, was torn down by a gang of democratic rowdies and burned in a saloon kept by a democrat. We do not recollect that the Argus denounced that outrage.

BE CAREFUL!—The Detroit Free Press has the following:

"Bills of the Bank of Commerce, of Erie, Pa., are looked upon with much suspicion by the bankers of this city. We are informed that a large amount of this money has been recently precipitated upon the public, the bank issuing it refusing to take it again on deposit. A large amount of it has been sent into this state for the purchase of wheat. It is looked upon as a swindle, bankers considering that the design is to force a large amount of it into circulation, and then to allow the bank to close against its redemption. Those who handle much money will do well to be careful of all bills of this bank."

We do not know that any of these bills have found their way into this section of the country, but it will do no harm for every body, as the new crop is coming into market, to be cautious in receiving the money offered in payment. There are too many men who will attempt to force a worthless currency into circulation, and reap a rich harvest at the expense of a victimized community. An abundance of unquestionable money can be procured for the purchase of the coming crop. Probably there is in Janesville now as good currency as can be found in the state, at least we hear no complaints about it, and if it can be kept up to the present standard, any losses that may occur will be one of the ordinary risks of business, and not a premeditated swindle.

OFFICE OF SUP'T OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION, MADISON, 7th Aug., 1860.

Editors of Gazette and Free Press, Janesville, Wis:—

In your weekly issue of Aug. 2d, I notice the statement that town superintendents must make their annual reports to the clerk of the board of supervisors by the 15th inst. This is a mistake. The district clerks are not required to make their reports to the town superintendents till next month (between the 1st and 10th), and the town superintendents have from the 15th to the 25th of the same month to make their reports to the clerk of the board of supervisors. By giving this a place in your paper you will correct any misapprehensions caused by your former article, and oblige

Yours truly, A. J. CRAIG,
Ass't State Superintendent.

MADISON CITY DEBT.—The common council of the city of Madison have adopted a proposition tendering to the holders of the bonds of that city, issued for municipal and railroad purposes, 30 cents on a dollar of the amount due on the same; new bonds to be issued for the sum, with 20 years to run, and bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum; an instalment of 5 per cent. a year to be paid on the principal to such as desire it. When all the holders of these bonds accept this proposition, the new bonds are to be issued and the old ones cancelled. The resolutions express the opinion that this is all the city can pay, but that with this compromise the citizens will exert themselves to pay promptly.

An agent was directed to be chosen by the council to confer with the bondholders, and endeavor to obtain their consent to the foregoing stipulations, and with authority to bind the city to the same.

The indebtedness of Madison is pretty heavy. A loan of $100,000 was made in the start for municipal purposes; whither there are other bonds of this character we do not know; $50,000 was issued to the state to aid in the capitol enlargement, and the issue of railroad bonds has been to a considerable extent. A proposal to compromise at 30 cents on the dollar for indebtedness incurred for municipal purposes looks a good deal like bankruptcy.

BENEFIT OF A BAROMETER.—A farmer, Underwood, of Aurelius, in this state, secured his entire crop of hay the present summer by consulting the barometer. The morning he commenced cutting his hay it looked cloudy and felt like rain, still the barometer pointed unerringly to dry weather, and on the strength of that the hay was cut, cured and secured before any rain made its appearance. But for the barometer the hay would have been left standing, subject to the vicissitudes of uncertain weather.—This instrument is a sure indicator of an approaching change in the weather, and every farmer should consider it as essential an article as a plow or reaper. In many cases, it would save its cost in a single season.

Our "devil" wanting to kiss his sweetheart, addressed her as follows: "Miss Lucy, can I have the privilege putting my 'imprint' on your 'bill.'"

Letter From Pike's Peak.

Our townsman, Francis D. Camman, Esq., has handed us the following extracts from a letter received by him from his son at Pike's Peak. It will be found interesting:

YANKEE BAR, Clear Creek, July 15, '60.

* * * * * My time for the last two weeks has been occupied in prospecting Yankee Bar, and it will probably take another week to thoroughly prospect it. It is my opinion that when we do prospect it to the bed rock, we will strike it very rich, and that is the opinion of all our company, which consists of twenty-five men, principally from Janesville, Wisconsin. But I do not expect to realize a great deal from it, although I have as large an interest as any of the company, so I shall not be disappointed if it should be a failure. The next bar above us, and also the next below us are paying well. Spanish bar is the second one above Yankee bar, and one claim on it was sold for $3,000, cash, about two weeks ago, but that is an exception. Yankee bar is considered one of the best on Clear Creek. It is very large and will cost us about $1100 to prospect it, counting our time at $2.50 per day, which are the going wages at present. This is the reason that it was not taken up last fall.

Most of our party live in tents. Mr. Allen, from Janesville, and myself built a bough house, and we have a very comfortable place to sleep. Our bed is of spruce boughs, and it is as good as any mattrass. We also built a place to eat in; our bill of fare is not quite as large as some of the hotels in the states, but we manage to live. We have to pack our provisions over the mountains about eight miles from Mountain City, and all kinds of provisions are very high here. Flour, $17 per hundred; bacon, 30 cents per pound; sugar, 30c; coffee, 35c. Butter is now selling in Mountain City at six shillings per pound. We have not bought any yet, nor have I had any for six weeks. There are no potatoes in the market. One bushel was sold in Denver a few days since, for seed, for fourteen dollars.

I intend to cross Snowy Range next fall if I am able, as I know there are some rich diggings there. It is about ninety miles to where I intend to go. There will be a party of three, I think. To-morrow we intend to commence running our sluices, and expect to pay grub, as it is called here, and it will grow richer as we go down. Probably the next letter you receive will tell you something more definite about this bar, at least I hope so. Mining is very hard work indeed, but I have got so that I can work pretty well, considering the work I have to do. Money is very scarce in the mountains. As yet, not many quartz mills have been put in operation. Everybody is paying out what little money they have to get started. I think the mills will pay well. A mill just below Mr. Patterson's washed up $1,840 last night, as three days' work, running day and night. There are a great many returning to the states, six going to one coming. The most of them them come here and find all the claims taken up, turn round immediately and go back. We had pretty hard work to get our claim. We jumped it on the night of the 20th of June, and had a law suit about it, which was decided in our favor. It was all fair, but of course we had to have a suit about it.

Life Insurance.

Those desiring this safest and cheapest protection for their families, can secure it in our Wisconsin company. It has already become, in reality, a state institution, having agents and patrons among the best business men in all the principal towns in the state. It is no longer a matter of doubt that life insurance can be conducted as well in Wisconsin as in Connecticut or any other eastern state.

While duty demands that men should insure their lives, it also demands that they should keep their money for investment at home. Confident that our success has been more than equal to that of the most "unprecedented," we would cordially invite all our citizens to call at the office, southwest corner of Main and Wisconsin streets, and examine for themselves.

S. S. DAGGETT, President.

A. W. KELLOGG, Secretary.

County Republican Committee.

A meeting of the Rock County Republican Committee will be held at the office of the Gazette and Free Press, MONDAY AFTERNOON, at 2 o'clock, August 13th, to transact important business. It is desirable that every member of the committee should be present.

B. E. HALE, Ch'n.

CHAS. HOLT, Sec'y.

SOME DIFFERENCE.—The telegraph, as it came to us yesterday, reported the number attending the republican meeting in Oswego, N. Y., at 4,000. The same report in the Milwaukee papers make the number 14,000. A slight difference.

On Sunday night last, a party of Wide Awakes in Lowell, Mass., took down the Breckinridge and Lane flag, which was suspended from the Museum building in that city. The next morning nothing but a small strip of the flag was seen attached to the line on which it had been run out.—Madison Argus.

Rowdyism is not confined to the republican party. Four years ago, a fine Fremont and Dayton flag belonging to the Gazette office, and suspended from the building in which the paper was then printed, was torn down by a gang of democratic rowdies and burned in a saloon kept by a democrat. We do not recollect that the Argus denounced that outrage.

BE CAREFUL!—The Detroit Free Press has the following:

"Bills of the Bank of Commerce, of Erie, Pa., are looked upon with much suspicion by the bankers of this city. We are informed that a large amount of this money has been recently precipitated upon the public, the bank issuing it refusing to take it again on deposit. A large amount of it has been sent into this state for the purchase of wheat. It is looked upon as a swindle, bankers considering that the design is to force a large amount of it into circulation, and then to allow the bank to close against its redemption. Those who handle much money will do well to be careful of all bills of this bank."

We do not know that any of these bills have found their way into this section of the country, but it will do no harm for every body, as the new crop is coming into market, to be cautious in receiving the money offered in payment. There are too many men who will attempt to force a worthless currency into circulation, and reap a rich harvest at the expense of a victimized community. An abundance of unquestionable money can be procured for the purchase of the coming crop. Probably there is in Janesville now as good currency as can be found in the state, at least we hear no complaints about it, and if it can be kept up to the present standard, any losses that may occur will be one of the ordinary risks of business, and not a premeditated swindle.

OFFICE OF SUP'T OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,
MADISON, 7th Aug., 1860.

Editors of Gazette and Free Press, Janesville, Wis:—

In your weekly issue of Aug. 2d, I notice the statement that town superintendents must make their annual reports to the clerk of the board of supervisors by the 15th inst. This is a mistake. The district clerks are not required to make their reports to the town superintendents till next month (between the 1st and 10th), and the town superintendents have from the 15th to the 25th of the same month to make their reports to the clerk of the board of supervisors. By giving this a place in your paper you will correct any misapprehensions caused by your former article, and oblige

Yours truly, A. J. CRAIG,
Ass't State Superintendent.

MADISON CITY DEBT.—The common council of the city of Madison have adopted a proposition tendering to the holders of the bonds of that city, issued for municipal and railroad purposes, 30 cents on a dollar of the amount due on the same; new bonds to be issued for the sum, with 20 years to run, and bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum; an instalment of 5 per cent. a year to be paid on the principal to such as desire it. When all the holders of these bonds accept this proposition, the new bonds are to be issued and the old ones cancelled. The resolutions express the opinion that this is all the city can pay, but that with this compromise the citizens will exert themselves to pay promptly.

An agent was directed to be chosen by the council to confer with the bondholders, and endeavor to obtain their consent to the foregoing stipulations, and with authority to bind the city to the same.

The indebtedness of Madison is pretty heavy. A loan of $100,000 was made in the start for municipal purposes; whither there are other bonds of this character we do not know; $50,000 was issued to the state to aid in the capitol enlargement, and the issue of railroad bonds has been to a considerable extent. A proposal to compromise at 30 cents on the dollar for indebtedness incurred for municipal purposes looks a good deal like bankruptcy.

BENEFIT OF A BAROMETER.—A farmer, Underwood, of Aurelius, in this state, secured his entire crop of hay the present summer by consulting the barometer. The morning he commenced cutting his hay it looked cloudy and felt like rain, still the barometer pointed unerringly to dry weather, and on the strength of that the hay was cut, cured and secured before any rain made its appearance. But for the barometer the hay would have been left standing, subject to the vicissitudes of uncertain weather.—This instrument is a sure indicator of an approaching change in the weather, and every farmer should consider it as essential an article as a plow or reaper. In many cases, it would save its cost in a single season.

Our "devil" wanting to kiss his sweetheart, addressed her as follows:—"Miss Lucy, can I have the privilege putting my 'imprint' on your 'bill.'"

From the Rockford Register.

Letter From Pike's Peak.

Our townsman, Francis D. Camman, Esq., has handed us the following extracts from a letter received by him from his son at Pike's Peak. It will be found interesting:

YANKEE BAR, Clear Creek, July 15, '60.

* * * * * My time for the last two weeks has been occupied in prospecting Yankee Bar, and it will probably take another week to thoroughly prospect it. It is my opinion that when we do prospect it to the bed rock, we will strike it very rich, and that is the opinion of all our company, which consists of twenty-five men, principally from Janesville, Wisconsin. But I do not expect to realize a great deal from it, although I have as large an interest as any of the company, so I shall not be disappointed if it should be a failure. The next bar above us, and also the next below us are paying well. Spanish bar is the second one above Yankee bar, and one claim on it was sold for $3,000, cash, about two weeks ago, but that is an exception. Yankee bar is considered one of the best on Clear Creek. It is very large and will cost us about $1100 to prospect it, counting our time at $2.50 per day, which are the going wages at present. This is the reason that it was not taken up last fall.

Most of our party live in tents. Mr. Allen, from Janesville, and myself built a bough house, and we have a very comfortable place to sleep. Our bed is of spruce boughs, and it is as good as any mattrass. We also built a place to eat in; our bill of fare is not quite as large as some of the hotels in the states, but we manage to live. We have to pack our provisions over the mountains about eight miles from Mountain City, and all kinds of provisions are very high here. Flour, $17 per hundred; bacon, 30 cents per pound; sugar, 30c; coffee, 35c. Butter is now selling in Mountain City at six shillings per pound. We have not bought any yet, nor have I had any for six weeks. There are no potaties in the market. One bushel was sold in Denver a few days since, for seed, for fourteen dollars.

I intend to cross Snowy Range next fall if I am able, as I know there are some rich diggings there. It is about ninety miles to where I intend to go. There will be a party of three, I think. To-morrow we intend to commence running our sluices, and expect to pay grub, as it is called here, and it will grow richer as we go down. Probably the next letter you receive will tell you something more definite about this bar, at least I hope so. Mining is very hard work indeed, but I have got so that I can work pretty well, considering the work I have to do. Money is very scarce in the mountains. As yet, not many quartz mills have been put in operation. Everybody is paying out what little money they have to get started. I think the mills will pay well. A mill just below Mr. Patterson's washed up $1,840 last night, as three days' work, running day and night. There are a great many returning to the states, six going to one coming. The most of them them come here and find all the claims taken up, turn round immediately and go back. We had pretty hard work to get our claim. We jumped it on the night of the 20th of June, and had a law suit about it, which was decided in our favor. It was all fair, but of course we had to have a suit about it.

Life Insurance.

Those desiring this safest and cheapest protection for their families, can secure it in our Wisconsin company. It has already become, in reality, a state institution, having agents and patrons among the best business men in all the principal towns in the state. It is no longer a matter of doubt that life insurance can be conducted as well in Wisconsin as in Connecticut or any other eastern state.

While duty demands that men should insure their lives, it also demands that they should keep their money for investment at home. Confident that our success has been more than equal to that of the most "unprecedented," we would cordially invite all our citizens to call at the office, southwest corner of Main and Wisconsin streets, and examine for themselves.

S. S. DAGGETT, President.

A. W. KELLOGG, Secretary.

☞ Messrs. Pixley & Harlow, produce dealers, and Capt. Geo. S. Dodge will receive applications for insurance in this home company, and will also be happy to give information as to the condition thereof, to any one desirous of being informed, in Janesville.
